FINAL WARNING ISSUED TO DRAFTED MEN

BRITISH RIP NEW HOLES IN ENEMY LINES AT YPRES

New Offensive Launched by General
Haig Tears in Germans and Gains Vital Points.

GERMANS SURRENDERING BY HUNDREDS

British Front in France and Belgium, Oct. 4.—(By the Associated Press.)—Field Marshal Haig's forces, in the offensive begun to the east of Ypres this morning, in some places have penetrated the German lines to a depth of one mile and have overrun the crest of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge.

At an early hour the Germans were surrendering by hundreds. The British already have penetrated well beyond the hamlet of Broadseinde, which lies on crossroads formed by the highways between Zonnebeke and Moorsled and Passchendaele and Beelaire.

Further to the south, Cameron Covert, where there had been much fighting, was left well in the rear. Today's battle was along strongholds which comprised the crucially important system of German defenses along the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt ridge.

The northern wing of the onrushing British troops was battling forward this morning within a short distance of Poelcapelle, it had a footing on the famous Gruvenstede ridge, which jutted out from the Passchendaele ridge to the west, and had crushed through the Zonnebeke-Broodseinde ridge, which is an integral part of the Passchendaele-Gheluvelt chain.

Prisoners are coming in much more rapidly and in greater numbers than in the last push. Everywhere the British have done splendidly in one of the most pretentious offensives made on this front. The attack was launched under heavy clouds and with a mist following a night drizzle.

An unusual feature of the battle was that near Zonnebeke. Three German divisions which had been ordered to retake positions captured by the British last week were caught in the British barrage as they were preparing to advance.

At 10 o'clock the battle was still raging furiously. It was apparent that the Germans would use every means to retake this invaluable territory, and determined counter attacks were expected.

The British casualties today have been exceedingly light.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT.
London, Oct. 4.—Field Marshal Haig has begun a new offensive east of Ypres. The official statement from British headquarters in France issued today, says that the British attacked at 6 o'clock this morning on a wide front and are making satisfactory progress. A number of prisoners already have been taken.

WAR TAXES IN EFFECT

Revenue Bill That Will Produce $2,500,000,000 Operative Today.

LAYS ITS GENTLE HAND ON EVERYONE

Incomes and War Profits Made to Bear Bulk of the Burden.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The new war taxes, designed to raise two and a half billion dollars under the provisions of the revenue bill signed yesterday by President Wilson, went into effect today.

In the form of levies on incomes, excess profits, liquor, tobacco, transportation and various luxuries and amusements, the law either directly or indirectly affects everyone in the country. One of the first results is the advance in distilled beverage prices caused by an assessment of $2.10 a gallon.

It has been estimated by the treasury department and the senate finance committee that the law during the first year of its operation will raise from individual and corporate incomes $851,000,000; excess profits, $1,000,000,000; distilled spirits, $135,000,000; tobacco, cigars and cigarettes, $61,500,000; transportation, $50,000,000; amusement admissions, $50,000,000; and automobiles and motorcycles, $40,000,000.

CARRIES SEVEN BILLIONS.
Washington, Oct. 4.—The urgent deficiency bill, carrying $7,757,434,410, was taken up in the house today with prompt adoption virtually assured. After the measure is disposed of it will go to President Wilson for signature. As agreed upon in conference the bill carries the largest amount, it said, ever appropriated by any government at one time. It provides for the disbursement of $5,355,976,016 in cash and grants authorization of $2,401,458,393 in contracts. The funds will be devoted almost entirely to the payment of war expenses.

Summary of the Day's War News

Striking again on a wide front east of Ypres, the British this morning began another drive at the German lines in Flanders. Field Marshal Haig, in his early report announced that satisfactory progress was being made. Already a stream of German prisoners is being sent to the British rear.

The renewal of the Flanders drive comes after an eight day interval. On Wednesday of last week the British swept forward over ground on both sides of the Ypres-Menin road, advancing from a half mile to a mile at various points along the line.

Some of the heaviest fighting of the war on the western front followed, the Germans making assault after assault in desperate attempts to regain the valuable ground they had lost. Almost every inch of it, however, was held intact by the British who meanwhile were preparing for the next forward push.

With today's renewal of the drive, the battle of Flanders is growing more and more to resemble last year's battle of the Somme, which was followed by

DIDN'T STEAL A THING BUT BIG INTERURBAN CAR

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 4.—Charged with stealing a big interurban car from the traction terminal station here, Charles E. Jay, an electrician employed at a local hotel, was arrested by city detectives early today. The detectives say they found Jay on the car in the northwestern part of the city. Jay says he "don't remember." Watchman at the terminal station said the car move out at an early hour and disappear into the heavy fog. They learned it was not scheduled to go at that time, and the police were called. An automobile gave chase, but did not catch the car. The automobile fled with police continued northwest of the city into the country. In the meantime other detectives got on a city street car. It met the big car returning to the business section of the city lines. They jumped onto the interurban car and found Jay on it alone, they said. The car was returned to the terminal station.

New York, Oct. 4.—Evidence indicating that German funds held by New York banks for the Deutsche bank of Berlin and which were employed to pay Bolo Pasha, German spy, and peace propagandist, were placed at the disposal of Count von Bernstorff by wireless messages from the German foreign office, was obtained today by State Attorney General Merton E. Lewis.

This evidence conclusively proves, according to the attorney general, that Count von Bernstorff had a direct hand in directing the activities of Bolo Pasha, who is now under arrest in Paris. It was ordered, he said, from Hugo Schmidt, agent here of the Deutsche bank, whom he examined today.

HOUSE WILL USE PROBE

Appoints Committee to Investigate Heflin Charges.

WILL TRACE THE BERNSTORFF FUND

Senate Still Debating on Course to Take With La Follette.

Washington, Oct. 4.—A committee of five members was appointed by the house today to investigate charges made by Representative Heflin, of Alabama, that certain members of congress had "aded suspiciously" in connection with the war.

SENATE UNDECIDED.
Washington, Oct. 4.—Decision as to what action it shall take on petitions demanding expulsion of Senator La Follette was again postponed today by the senate privileges and elections committee. Another meeting will be held tomorrow when it is hoped to determine whether any action shall be taken, and if so whether before or after adjournment of the present session. The committee is considering various courses.

Today the question of a formal investigation and hearings upon Senator La Follette's speeches and statements was discussed. Several senators were said to favor a resolution deploring his attitude and censuring him. More drastic action, such as expulsion or impeachment, it was said, is not seriously considered. There was some sentiment in the committee toward recommending investigation of Senator La Follette's speech before the Non-Partisan League at St. Paul. The committee virtually decided that there was no prima facie basis for extending any investigation if one should be decided upon, to Senators Stone, Gronna or others named in the petitions.

It was decided that the committee had authority to recommend such an investigation without having any petition or formal resolution before it.

Another point decided today by the committee was that should it decide to recommend an inquiry it would have to bring out a resolution to that effect for adoption in the senate before adjournment, with prospect of its being the vehicle of tempestuous debate and possibly delay adjournment.

WANT HIM DEPORTED.
Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 4.—Deportation of United States Senator Robert M. La Follette and his supporters through the allies' lines to Berlin because of their "treasonable utterances," was urged in a resolution received today by Governor Cox from the Executives' club of Toledo, representing twenty-four clubs and associations in that city. A copy of the resolutions were sent to President Wilson and to Ohio senators and congressmen with the request that they be entered in the Congressional Record.

DRAFTED MEN WHO FAIL TO COME IN WILL BE PURSUED

Delinquents Given Chance to Join
Colors and Escape Punishment
If They Report at Once.

OTHERWISE, REWARD IS ON THEIR HEADS

Washington, Oct. 4.—A last warning was issued today to drafted men who have failed to answer the call to the colors. The government gave notice that those who have failed to report will be given an opportunity to escape punishment if they join the colors now and explain their previous failure to do so.

If they show a willful disposition to evade service they will be charged with desertion and every effort will be made to apprehend and punish them.

Drafted men failing to report now will be promptly advertised as deserters and a reward of $50 offered for their apprehension. Divisional commanders, however, have been directed to question personally such men before trial is ordered and establish whether the soldier willfully sought to evade military service.

Many men who fail to appear, war department officials believe, have legitimate excuses, while others are merely careless. For that reason leniency will be shown except where wilful intent to evade service is clear.

Men tried and found guilty as deserters will not be permitted to escape their duty as soldiers by dishonorable discharge.

"The policy of the department will be," it was announced, "to punish them and retain them in the service." Where no intent to desert is shown, absentees on their apprehension will be sent to the proper divisional camp and permitted to earn honorable status with their fellows by close application to their duties.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

WABASH PASSENGER TRAIN IS WRECKED

Three Cars Went in Ditch and Six of the Passengers Were Injured.

If William H. Keeran, of 901 Columbia avenue, had a collar bone broken when the Wabash car in which he was riding plunged into a ditch at the Toledo station, Mrs. Keeran has been unable to get confirmation of the news, though she tried to do so. She is inclined to the opinion, therefore, that if her husband was on the train, his injuries were not serious, else he would have notified her. Mr. Keeran has been engaged for a number of years as a traveling salesman for the American Seating company, of Chicago, which manufactures opera and church seats, and in that capacity he left the city yesterday morning for Celina and other points in Ohio. If he went to Toledo last night, he changed his itinerary after he left home.

The unfortunate train was the Fort Wayne-Toledo "plug," known as No. 58, which left this city about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, in charge of Conductor Len Gunn, Engineer Robert Devlin and Fireman Bristol. As it reached the Toledo city limits at 8 o'clock, the baggage and smoker struck a broken rail and plunged into an eight-foot ditch at the side of the track. The first coach cartwheeled and hung in a threatening attitude over the bank, but did not turn over. The other coach and the engine remained on the tracks.

All the injured were riding in the smoking car. According to a dispatch sent out from Toledo, they were Samuel L. Black, of Columbus, Ohio, cut by falling glass and bruised; J. H. Hunt, of Columbus, knee and arm cut; Harry Barnett, New York, back injured; William H. Keeran, Fort Wayne, collar bone broken; Baggage man H. W. Martin, Toledo, both arms injured, and Isadore Cohen, of Toledo, cut on the head. The injured were taken to a hospital, but none being seriously hurt, all were able to continue their journey or return to their homes. There were fifty-two passengers on the train and the list of casualties and the slight injury of each is considered remarkable. The Peru wreck crew passed through this city at 10 o'clock last night and with the aid of the wreck crew from Montpelier, soon had the derailed cars back on the tracks.

J. P. Harry, of Bloomington, Ill., visited his sister, Mrs. August Mrazek, for a few days last week. Mrs. Mrazek is employed at the Pennsylvania round house as an engine checker.

JOSEPH F. LONG GETS A NICE PROMOTION

Made General Yardmaster at Fort Wayne for Nickel Plate.

Joseph F. Long assumed the duties of general yard master at Fort Wayne for the Nickel Plate this morning, succeeding Charles F. Lyon, assigned to other duties. Mr. Long is a veteran in the train service on the Nickel Plate and for the past five or six years has had charge of trains 5 and 6 between Chicago and Bellevue, retaining his residence in this city in the meantime. His service with the company dates from January 31, 1892, when he took a position as a freight brakeman. Three years later, on April 5, 1895, he was promoted to freight conductor with a run in and out of Fort Wayne. He became a passenger conductor April 26, 1903, and has had one of the best runs over the line ever since. He is popular with acquaintances in and out of railway circles and is being generally congratulated upon his promotion. The passenger run vacated by Mr. Long is open to bid now and no assignment to the position will be made for a few days.

CHICAGO TRANSFER STATION CLOSED.

Local Pennsylvania officials have been advised that the Chicago transfer station has been closed to all but perishable freight and government and company material. This is because of inability to get cars to handle the business and the embargo on certain kinds of freight on the eastern lines.

HERE VISITING FRIENDS.

John Bruce Burdett, formerly storekeeper at the Pennsylvania and now a member of the engineering corps of the regular army, is in this city on a furlough and was a caller at the shops visiting friends. He is stationed at Washington, D. C., and claims to like army work better than shop work.

IN NEW YORK.

S. F. Bowser, president and S. B. Bechtel, general manager of the Bowser firm, are in New York city this week on company business.

BEDFORD STONE CO. AWARDED CONTRACT

Will Erect Big Five Story Addition to General Electric Plant.

The Bedford Stone and Construction company, of Bedford, Ind., was the lowest bidder on the erection of the addition to the General Electric works, which will be located between the new warehouse building, on the eastern portion of the grounds, and the old factory buildings, adjacent to the Pennsylvania tracks, some of which have been razed to make room for the proposed building. There were seven bidders and the Bedford people being the lowest, will be awarded the contract. Work of erecting the walls will commence as soon as the excavation work is finished and the contractor can assemble the construction equipment and material. The time limit on the work extends to next March. This building will be of the same construction as the buildings on Wall street, recently completed, and now being equipped and occupied. The walls will be heavy reinforced concrete with red brick veneer, five stories and a basement high and will present a handsome appearance. On each floor will be sanitary toilet rooms for men and women, one above the other, making that portion of the building eight or nine stories high. The work of excavation, of which Harry McAfee is the contractor, is being pushed along as fast as a big steam shovel, a number of men and teams can do it. So far as known this will be the only new addition to the works to be started this year. The warehouse is receiving an extension southward of 100 feet, which will make it about 400 feet long.

E. Guy, of the Wabash, was unable to report for work this morning on account of sickness.

Harry Pfeiffer and Elmer Neils, of the Wayne Knitting mills, have gone to Mexico on a vacation trip. Mr. Pfeiffer is assistant superintendent and Mr. Neils is finishing department foreman of the works.

Fred T. Huston, assistant motive power engineer of the Pennsylvania Northwest system, and C. N. Brentlinger, chief motive power clerk, are at Pittsburgh on business for the company.

The quarterly war times bonus of 5 per cent at the Wayne Knitting mills will be distributed with the regular wages of the employees next Saturday. The sum adds greatly to the cash distributions among the employees.

Machinist Charles Haberkorn, of the Wabash, has been temporarily transferred to Detroit to do some special work for the company. He will probably be there the remaining days of the week.

D. G. Franklin and Wilbur J. pasley, Nickel Plate brakemen, have been transferred during the term of war with Germany and have gone to Rockford, Ill., to report for duty in the Twenty-first engineer corps.

Alonso Timmis, a hammersmith at the Blacksmith shop, received a "jolt" from the tongs yesterday, while holding a piece of metal, which caused the bursting of a blood vessel in his right hand, disabling him for duty for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scott, of Joliet, Ill., who have been visiting Mrs. John C. Hinton and family and other relatives in the city for the past three weeks, will leave tomorrow for their home. Mr. Scott is a conductor on a steam road running between Joliet and Gary, and is out on a vacation.

E. M. Reese, assistant trainmaster of the Pennsylvania, sustained injuries by a fall down a pair of stairs at his home this morning and is unable to get to the office. It is believed the injuries are not serious and that Mr. Reese will be on duty again in a day or two.

W. S. Cotterman, special agent from the office of the superintendent of car service of the Nickel Plate, at Cleveland, formerly attached to the local office, was in Fort Wayne Monday and Tuesday, conferring with local officials and incidentally greeting his old friends.

Al Birna, oil house attendant at the Wabash shops, resigned yesterday to take employment elsewhere. J. H. Martin, a helper in the pipefitting department, has taken a furlough and will leave Friday for one of the government training camps to prepare himself for service in the army. He is one of the drafted men.

CITY SALOON LICENSE FEE IS CUT IN TWO

Grill Keepers Have Six Months to Run and So Pay But Half.

The city controller has collected the city liquor license fee for October. The amount is half the total taken in the first week of October, 1916. The fact that the saloon men have but six months for operation before the fatal day of next April causes them to be assessed but half the fee.

The ten saloonkeepers, whose license renewal falls due in October and who have settled accounts with Controller Baade, were assessed $152 each. Last year they paid $302 apiece. The total paid in was $1,520 when $3,020 was netted for the city a year ago.

Next month the amount paid the city will be less. The payment for each renewal will decrease $25 a month. The plan of making a deduction for each month is also followed by the county.

Controller Baade states that he knows of no saloon licenses which have been given up because of the license rates or the shadow of impending draught.

MAYOR IS ELATED.

Stone and Vrooman Agree With Piggy Plan.

Mayor W. J. Hosey asked both Carl Vrooman, deputy secretary of agriculture, and W. F. Stone, president of Purdue university, their opinions of the piggy plan for garbage disposal Wednesday. Both men think the scheme practical at this time when food production is the big problem.

"The plan would be helped still more if every family would save a few chickens," said President Stone.

"There is no way of gaining a high degree of food conservation that surpasses the plan of feeding waste to pigs," said Vrooman. "The plan is meeting with more and more approval."

TO CONDEMN WAX.

Board of Works Plan to Open New Sewer.

The board of works will pass a resolution condemning a right of way for a sewer on the east side of Spy Run avenue, from the St. Mary's river to Lawton park, at the regular board session, Thursday night.

Other actions to be taken up by the board will be or installing cement sidewalks on both sides of Phenix street, from Taylor street to Hale avenue; for building sidewalks on both sides of Boltz avenue, from Warsaw street to Keosauqua street; for paving sidewalks on the west side of Arlington avenue, from Rudisill boulevard to Branning street.

The board will also act favorably on petitions for paving Grand View avenue from Hanna street to the alley east of Gay street and for paving Oak street, from Division street to Ohio street.

WILL EXTEND STREET.

South Broadway Will Run from Bridge to St. Mary's River.

The park board has passed favorably on a resolution for extending South Broadway from the Bluffton road to the St. Mary's river. The action will mean the lengthening of the street for three-quarters of a mile. The extended road will be sixty feet wide.

A part of the proposed extension is outside the city limits and approval of the county commissioners was necessary in granting the action. Plans for the lengthening of the street have been given to the city engineer for his stamp of approval.

Will Register Voters.

Registration of voters for the coming city election will be carried on at the library hall, Thursday evening. Signing of the voters in every part of the city is being carried on by all political workers. There are now 22,000 registrations and the protection of ballots will stop at 6 o'clock, Fort Wayne time, next Monday evening.

Finish Paving.

The Grace Construction company has finished the paving of Wayne street, from Grant avenue to Glasgow avenue. It is hoped to have the paving of Glasgow avenue completed by next Saturday evening.

Abolish Bad Crossing.

The Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company has removed the plank from the crossing at the industrial track on North Clinton

GRANDMA USED SAGE TEA TO DARKEN HAIR

She Mixed Sulphur With It to Restore Color, Gloss, Youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way to get a 50-cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark glossy, soft and lustrous.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

FACTS ABOUT THE WASTE CAMPAIGN

The Woman's Club League deprecates the adverse comment their waste campaign has aroused in some quarters and believes that if the public is made acquainted with the facts their initiative in inaugurating the campaign will be approved as well as the plan by the public.

The Woman's Club League does not desire to supplant any other charitable organization in the permanent collection of waste as a means of supporting their work. The present campaign is to last only a week and the collections made in that time surely will not interfere with their year around, as waste is a matter of plentiful daily accumulation.

The waste is to be collected for the philanthropic department of the Woman's Club League and belongs absolutely to them, and will be sold by them to the highest bidder, and bids are invited. The only expense attached to the campaign is the collection service charge of the specialists employed by us in the work of putting on this campaign.

This plan of conserving waste has been operated in very many cities and has been highly indorsed by civic and charities officials and in Washington, D. C., where this plan was operated, it received the sanction of the federal indorsement charities committee.

There is a wrong impression prevalent that some out of town junk concern has made a deal with the Woman's Club League to use their name to collect waste for themselves. The waste collected is the absolute property of the Woman's Club League, and the amount realized will depend on the bids received, deducting therefrom the service charge.

The Woman's Club League has no doubt that with the above explanation the public will respond to their appeal for support in this campaign, and is looking forward to the great amount of good they can accomplish with the proceeds.

MEXICO EXONERATES US.

Mexico City, Oct. 4.—The Mexican foreign office has issued an official statement that citizens of Mexico are Willows are mentioned in Leviticus, Job, Isaiah and the Psalms. The tree on which the captive Israelites hung their carps was the weeping willow.

"DEAR," Stop Your Dandruff by using Pompeian HAIR Massage."

"Dandruff has made your hair straggly, thin looking and lifeless. Your coat collar is always covered with ugly scales. Stop your Dandruff now. You can. Just look at my hair. The Dandruff is entirely gone and almost overnight Pompeian HAIR Massage made my hair attractive."

The success of Pompeian HAIR Massage is in its name—"Massage." It is a treatment, not merely a tonic. The massaging (rubbing) of the scalp wakes up the roots of the hair to new life. This massaging also opens the pores of the scalp to the wonderfully stimulating liquids in Pompeian HAIR Massage. Dandruff goes. Your hair will become and stay healthy, vigorous, attractive.

All that is needed is a little massaging once or twice a week. One application shows results. Your scalp will immediately feel clean and invigorated. In one month your Dandruff will be gone. Pompeian HAIR Massage is a clear amber liquid. Not oily. Not sticky. Very pleasant to use. "Greatest treatment for Dandruff in the world," says J. A. V. Chicago, Ill., "and I speak from experience. My hair before I started using it had gone beyond the ordinary stages of Dandruff and was covered with scales which embarrassed me greatly. I have introduced Pompeian HAIR Massage to my friends."

Practically every user says—one bottle shows actual results. Get a 25c, 50c or $1 bottle at the stores and say the same. Have your barber every now and then apply a careful Pompeian HAIR Massage. Used in over 30,000 of the best barber shops from Maine to California. Made by the reliable makers of the famous Pompeian NIGHT Cream and Pompeian NIGHT Cream.

COLUMBIA CITY COUPLE MARRIED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lawrence
Celebrate Golden Wedding
—Whitley County News

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Columbia City, Ind., Oct. 4.—Mr. and Mrs. John F. Lawrence, of North Main street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary quietly at their home Wednesday. They were wedded at New Paris, Ind., but have resided practically all of their wedded life in Whitley county. Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are the parents of the following six living children: Walter, at home; James, of Portland, Ore.; Charles, of Idaho; Mrs. C. D. Myers, of Redlands, Cal.; Mrs. D. F. Maine, of Toledo, and Mrs. E. L. Padgett, of City Point, Va.

Columbia City Short Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pettigrew are parents of a son, Averill.

The business houses of the city were closed from 8 to 10 o'clock Thursday morning, during the occasion of the farewell to the twenty-four soldiers who left for Camp Taylor over the Panhandle road.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sheeler arrived home Tuesday evening from Bluffton, where they visited their daughter, Mrs. Festus Rhoton and family, and together went to Camp Taylor to visit a son of the Sheelers, Sergeant Major Keller L. Sheeler, and the other boys from Columbia City. All are in good spirits, and were issued their uniforms Monday.

The members of the Fidelity club had their first meeting of the year Tuesday afternoon under their new president, Mrs. Frank Kenner, at the home of Mrs. Frank Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morsches, of East Market street, celebrated their twenty-second wedding anniversary, Wednesday, and their son, Carl, celebrated his seventeenth birthday anniversary.

The county commissioners spent Wednesday hearing the remonstrants in the case of the Jefferson township road acceptance. The remonstrants, represented by Attorney W. E. McNaghy, are against the acceptance of the road, which is nearly completed, on the ground that specifications have not been complied with, and that the taxpayers are not getting the highway they petitioned for. The contractor, Oscar L. Jones, contends that the road specifications were altered so that a far better highway has thus been realized.

The eight-months-old babe of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Wolf in some manner Tuesday evening tumbled into a container of soap suds, and when found, was almost drowned. Several minutes were required before the little tot could be resuscitated. The babe swallowed a great quantity of the soapy fluid.

The county commissioners have approved the reports of the county officials for the third quarter. They let the contract for the final quarter grocery supplies for the county farm to Will Reister for $118.60, and the clothing contract for the inmates to Clugston Brothers & Co., for $47.10. The Sam Smith, or eight Columbia township highways petition was continued until the November term. Contracts were let for three bridges, H. G. Mickey, of Piercetown, obtaining all. He has the contracts of all but one, the Lincoln highway, of the bridges to be constructed over the Otis E. Carter dredge drainage, or Blue River. The bridges on which contracts were let Tuesday afternoon follow: No. 15, Venice bridge, $2,050.15; No. 16, Blue River Church bridge, $1,653.35; No. 17, Barney Farm bridge, $1,703.05. Other bidders were John W. Wise, Charles Meyer, H. H. Spurgeon and J. E. Clifford.

Will Pence, of this city, received word Tuesday night from the Battle Creek sanitarium to the effect that his father, Joseph Pence, who underwent a critical operation, Sunday, for removal of a malignant stomach growth, is progressing exceptionally well.

At the regular meeting of the Modern Woodmen, Tuesday evening, the amendment to the by-laws, creating a patriotic fund to pay the insurance of the Modern Woodmen who have been called to war was sustained. This fund is created by the levying of an assessment of 10 cents monthly on each $500 of insurance carried by the million members of the order. At the same meeting Tuesday evening, Carl and Herbert Wolfe were given the first and second degrees, members of county lodges being present. The township trustees met Wednesday.

TWO LARGE CLASSES IN PUBLIC SPEAKING

Prof. Ross Lockridge Plans to Make Use of Little Brick Schools.

Two large classes in public speaking have been organized in connection with the Indiana university center in Fort Wayne. One group of fifteen members tramped through the rain, Wednesday evening, to attend the first session of the class, in the court house office. The other class will meet on Thursday evening of each week.

Prof. Lockridge, former head of the public speaking department of Indiana university and best known as secretary of the Citizens' League of Indiana, is in charge of the extension classes. He is enthusiastic about the showing of the extension department.

Prof. Lockridge plans to establish community centers in the little brick school houses of Allen county. In these study structures of learning he will promote debating societies, community singing and discussions of vital questions. Members of the public speaking classes will go out to the district schools to wage debates and for special talks. The movement will be launched soon. Prof. Lockridge announces. Farmers of the county seem heartily in favor of the plan.

Fort Wayne is to be the permanent home of Prof. Lockridge. It has been decided to continue only the publicity

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

The prompt and positive action of this simple, inexpensive home-made remedy in quickly healing the inflamed or swollen membranes of the throat, chest or bronchial tubes and breaking up tight coughs, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex (60 cents worth), into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. You then have a full pint—a family supply—of a much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for $2.50. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is known the world over for its promptness, ease and certainty in overcoming stubborn coughs and chest colds.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

MAURICE NIEZER URGES GREATER PATRIOTISM

In Address Delivered at Semi-Monthly Banquet of Decatur Rotary Club.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 4.—Maurice C. Niezer, democratic candidate for mayor of Fort Wayne, urged every American to do his bit and help win the present war in an address which he delivered here last evening at the semi-monthly banquet of the Decatur Rotary club.

Mr. Niezer spoke on "The Duty of a Rotarian as a Citizen," declaring that inasmuch as the membership of a Rotary club is always made up of the best citizens of a city, the community had a right to expect much from them. He urged co-operation in the second liberty loan campaign, the Red Cross, the Council of Defense and in every other worthy and patriotic movement. Mr. Niezer was frequently interrupted by applause which his remarks brought forth.

HIGH FLYING IS AIRSHIP FINANCE

Agent Quin Aviated by Night According to Police Charge.

The National Flying Machine company may be a real corporation which is planning a sure-enough conquest of the air. Stephen Quin, who claimed to be the agent of such an organization, is charged by police with having the ideal property, of night flying, for promoting such a soaring enterprise.

Quin is wanted on a charge of issuing a fraudulent check. Henry Cain, 23, who is claimed to have aided Quin in selling stock in the flying machine company, is held under $300 bond for trial on next Thursday on a like charge.

John A. Neff, shoe repair shop proprietor, 824 South Calhoun street, and who is expected to leave Friday morning for a place in the ranks of the new national army, is the complaining witness. He was allowed to testify in police court, Thursday, because of his prominence in the case and since it is thought that he cannot be retained here to see the trial through. Neff, however, has asked for a ten day leave to settle up his business matters. Attorney for Cain asked that the case be continued Wednesday morning. He did not object to Neff's testimony, however.

Neff has stock in the flying machine corporation. He consented to cash a draft for Cain and Quin several days ago, Neff testified. The draft was two returned here under the label of "the good." Later Quin came to Fort Wayne to interest a local jeweler in aviating stock and to the jeweler he gave a check for $10 telling him to give the paper to Neff. The shoe repair man took the certificate, he states and later found it to be worthless.

Detective Sergeant William Papert, who apprehended Cain is leading the hunt for Quin, who is thought by police to be in Michigan. Cain is unable to give a line on Quin's whereabouts, he states.

Other Police Court Cases.

Upon charges of public intoxication William Dodhage was fined $25 and costs; Joe Lally, $5 and costs, and George Anstett and Joe Triski were released. Abene Jemmett, charged with loitering, will be tried on October 6.

BOYS THROWN WHEN CYCLE HITS AUTO

Raymond Sulzer, 1843 Hanna street and F. Sulzer, 500 East DeWald street, were riding a motorcycle when the machine collided with an automobile on a down town street, Wednesday night. The boys were thrown from the motorcycle. Raymond Sulzer was slightly hurt and is confined to his home with injuries about the head and back. August Racine, 2020 Koch street, was driving the machine and reports that the motorcycle turned in front of his car.

FIGHT FOR THE SONS.

Within a year from two and one-half to three millions of the sons of America will be fighting on land and on sea for the honor of the flag to which they have rallied. Millions of homes will be represented in the great conflict. That those who fight may not fight in vain, that the sacrifices in American homes shall not in the end have come to no account, the boys bearing arms must be supported to the utmost with the nation's resources for war. Underlying every preparation for war is the question of money. This government cannot escape huge expenditure any more than any other government involved in the world's great strife can escape it. The more freely money is expended the more thorough will be the preparation. The more thorough the preparation the stronger will be the men of our army and navy for the supreme task that falls to their hands.

Those who do not go to the battle must fight in another way for the triumph of American arms. Those who remain at home must fight for their sons who go abroad to the battle. There are many ways in which this may be done, must be done. Sacrifices of one sort and another are numerous. National service offers itself in an infinitude of ways. All can do something and most of us are doing something. But the one essential service that cannot be dispensed with is that the people of America see to it that the government is provided with all the money it needs to carry on the war. Without money in abundance all else will be futile—sacrifice at home, sacrifice on the fields of battle.

We are not going into this war to battle for a futility. We are not making stupendous sacrifice to no end. We are not sending young men by millions into the conflict to win a bootless peace. We have definite aims to reach, noble ideals to attain, perpetual security to establish. If we shall fail in these our part in the war will be an unfruitful costliness and all our sacrifices sheer and tragic waste. There is the way to make our expenditure of life and treasure count wholly for the things that have impelled us to take up the sword and that is by throwing the whole strength of the nation into the fight and making victory an assurance doubly assured.

Americans at home must withhold no support from the Americans in the field. They must enlist their money to fight for their sons. The second Liberty Loan must be fully subscribed. Every family in the country that can find the means to pay for one of these bonds of some denomination owes it in duty to the government and owes it in duty to the men of the army and the navy to lend to that extent to the government.

Buying Liberty Loan bonds is no sacrifice. It is giving nothing away. It is taking no risk. It is losing nothing. It is a great and imperative national service, but it is merely lending money to the government. For the use of it interest will be paid. In due course the principal of the loan will be paid back. Meanwhile it remains the safest investment one can have for his money and at the rate of interest the government is paying is at the same time a very profitable investment. There may be some who will have to practice economies to the special purpose of paying for bonds, but such economies are virtues and in themselves of a practical and helpful sort that besides having the effect to save money will be found a good regimen in daily living. Such economy will not impose necessity to go without anything needful for comfort or appearance. There are many ways in which there may be saved each day the trifle needed to pay for a Liberty Loan bond.

And whatever the sacrifice—be it much or little—there is comfort in the reflection that it is made for the boys "over there," and their heroic devotion and their readiness for the supreme sacrifice shall not be in vain. It may be your boy and may be some other's boy that you have in mind as your personal concern, but it will be for some boy and all the boys who wear the uniform, bear the arms and fight under the flag of the republic. If we are to win in this war we must all stand together ready and resolved for the service we are called upon to make. Just now the immediate and supreme service is to give the government the money it needs. Fight for your sons who are fighting the foe.

THE WAR REVENUE BILL.

After four months of at least diligent if not altogether wise effort congress has contrived to get the war revenue bill off its hands and up to the president. It raises something above two and one-half billions, about half of which may be described with more or less accuracy as a tax on wealth. Incomes and excess of war profits are levied upon with some show of serious purpose to make them help foot the bills of the war, yet not heavily enough to put anybody or anything out of business.

There is in the bill both indirect and specific attention to about everybody in the whole nation, for in some wise this war tax measure is going to hit the people regardless of class, position, means or any consideration else. It is not to be regarded as a scientific scheme of revenue. Mr. Kitchin, chairman of the house ways and means committee, frankly admitted months ago that the bill was nothing of the sort, but on the contrary was an expedient called a revenue bill for the raising of so much money in the best ways readily possible. Since then the bill has been hacked this way and that and comes finally out of the congressional works carrying about three-quarters of a billion more than it was originally designed to raise and much changed in many aspects. It is not a happy affair, perhaps; but it will produce the money. It will rasp a good deal here and there and it will not be popular. Taxes never are. Yet it will destroy nothing and kill nobody—this side the water—in any event.

In congress there has been some sincere and some dishonest complaint that this revenue measure does not lay the federal hand heavily enough upon great wealth and swollen war profits. That may be the case. It should, however, be borne in mind by those who are sincere in their nurture of this grievance that the war is yet young. It may last quite awhile. We may need next year to raise say three and one-half billions by taxation to carry on the war. There is plenty of time ahead to dig money out of business and that will be the resort when the necessity is urgent. Here, as has been true abroad, the progress of the war has been marked by a progress in taxing wealth and this new measure has not done so badly in respect of incomes—individual and corporation—war profits and liquor and tobacco. Excess profits carry a round billion of the load. Incomes more than four-fifths as much and tobacco and drink enough more to bring the aggregate yield of these three general items above two billions.

There will be draft for more money upon the places where the bulk of this is coming from, unless the war contrary to every sign and expectation, shall come to an early ending.

BIG BLOW IS OVER.

There is something substantial and solacing in the country's vouchsafement of escape from the sore tribulation of a congressional inquiry into the von Bernstorff slush fund as that may in any way relate to the house. The Little Billee of the Sucker State has avowed in open session the quality and degree of his patriotism and loyalty and proved it by the fact of a son in the army. Congressman Mason might have behaved better toward his boy than lately he has been known to do, but there is no good reason to ascribe disloyalty to him. He has been weak and foolish, not wicked and traitorous. Tom Heslin has fully exculpated Congressman Mason and there is an end of the blow, save that the house may take it in design to ensure the Alabama gale for starting the muss in the first place. The state department in every tongue and style of speech it knows how to use has told congress that there is a scintilla of nothing in its evidences of German intrigue and propaganda that involves any member of congress. Yet the house has but narrowly averted the folly of investigating itself. It is a bare escape, but a joyous one.

Even if the man La Follette is not booted out of the senate he is as good as banished from the fellowship and communion of about everybody who takes pride in his Americanism and that is some degrees worse than getting kicked out of the senate. The man without a country is badly off indeed and that is the fate to which La Follette is drifting.

There will be bigger and better occasion next year for a war garden fair in Fort Wayne—and that is not by any means to say the one held yesterday was not worth while. This year's will be a help to next year's.

"Fare, please! All the glad ones, and the sad ones; all the good ones, and the bad ones—get on here!"

NOCTURNE.

The day is over, and all is done.
The flaming sun in the heavy West
Hides its face in the hills; 'tis gone
Down through the dark side, out toward the dawn,
Where Morning shows her snowy breast.

The day is over, and sealed, and dead.
All things that were or might have been
Are like mad shapes on some window pane,
That fall and rise and go again
As the dark sinks down from overhead.

The flame of life is faint and dim;
The body shivers; the mind is dumb;
The ghost of a solemn passing-hymn
Means through October's trees; the gloom
Of a chill September-life, ill-spiced,
Makes by its shade dearer obsequies
On the shining sands by the swamping seas,
Where the golden light of life is shed.

Sometime a Breath will catch the Spark
Of Life and the thin Fire will go
Into the Past, and along with the Tide—
Ever along in the ebb and flow—
And the Soul will drift, and the gleaming prow
Of the fairy-motored, tireless barque
Will sink like a sod into afterglow.

Hysteria is a life among the nation's paragraphs, says a prominent pacifist. Oh, well—we might as well have hysteria as slackers' paralysis.
The Germans want the Plovers' coast, a colonial empire, and maritime bases. Our own wants are more modest. We desire only seven million dollars, a summer home on Gibraltar, and the sultan's herem.

After all why shouldn't the Germans think well of themselves? Don't we think well of ourselves? A little national pride isn't a bad thing unless there are Krupp gangs behind it.

After this horrible bloodshed is over the world will probably be able to get along without so many victuaries.

Oh, why are La Follette from the Senate? He'll only go over to the grape juice circuit where the capacity for doing harm is unlimited.

HOW MUCH WAR TAX WILL YOU PAY?

By BASIL M. MANLY.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—With the passage of the war revenue bill every American, man, woman and child, becomes a federal taxpayer.

You can not buy any article that has been freighted by rail or water, you can not ride on a train, send a telegram, visit a theater or ball park, buy a bottle of patent medicine, a baseball bat or any other kind of sporting goods, a tube of tooth paste or any other toilet article, own an automobile, a motorcycle or a motorboat, draw a time draft, buy a bond or share of stock, or send in a proxy for an election, without paying tribute to your Uncle Samuel.

Moreover, through the income and excess profits taxes, not less than five million Americans who have never known what it is to take money out of their pockets and pay it over directly to Uncle Sam's collectors will now have to learn to make out their tax returns and master all the intricacies of calculating gross and net income, capital invested, depreciation and exemptions.

The income tax now reaches down and takes its levy from every married man or woman with an income over $2,000, and every unmarried man or woman with an income over $1,000, and the war profits tax reaches every corporation with a net income over $3,000, and every partnership and individual operating a business which yields more than $5,000 net income during this year.

Everyone of these five million new taxpayers ought to learn as soon as possible how to figure their taxes so that they can now plan for the readjustments in their business and personal affairs which these relatively heavy federal taxes will necessitate.

In order to enable them to make these calculations without calling in a lawyer or wading through the intricacies of the 130 page revenue bill, the following simple analysis of the war profits and income taxes has been prepared, with the assistance of Washington's leading tax experts:

THE INCOME TAX

WHO MUST PAY? Every unmarried man, woman or child with a net income from wages, profits, interest, rent or any other source exceeding $1,000 for the calendar year 1917, and every married person with a net income exceeding $2,000.

RETURNS MUST BE MADE under oath on or before March 1, 1918, by every person with an income exceeding the amounts named above, even if there is no tax due, under penalty of $20 to $1,000 for failure.

HOW TO CALCULATE NET INCOME. Net income, upon which the tax is levied, is calculated by taking the total amount of money received by the individual during the year from all sources and deducting from that amount the following items:

Necessary expenses actually paid in carrying on any business or trade, but not including personal, living or family expenses.

All interest paid within the year on indebtedness, except interest on loans made for the purchase of tax exempt securities.

All taxes, local, state and federal, except income and war profits taxes; Losses actually sustained during the year in business or trade or from fires, storms, theft, etc.; Debts ascertained to be worthless and actually charged off; Reasonable allowance for wear and tear of property employed in business; Contributions for religious, charitable, scientific or educational purposes to an amount not in excess of 15 per cent of the net income without the benefit of this paragraph.

EXEMPTIONS. Unmarried persons have $1,000 exempt from income tax; married persons have $2,000 exempt and in addition $200 exempt for each dependent child under 18 years of age.

TAX RATES. The taxes levied upon incomes are a composite result of four separate sets of taxes, the "normal" tax rates in the old revenue bill and the new, and the "super-tax" rates in the old bill and the new. For example, under the old law there was a normal tax of 2 per cent on all income of unmarried persons over $3,000, the new bill adds a new normal tax of 2 per cent and lowers the exemption to $1,000; under the old bill super-taxes started with $20,000, and these super-taxes still stand, but there have been added new super-taxes beginning with $5,000. The result is very confusing.

In order to bring all the existing rates into simple form, I have combined them in a single table which shows for each separate class of income, the total tax rate that will be levied upon it. The method of using the table can best be explained by a simple example:

If you are married, with no children, and have an income of $6,000, you will pay no tax on $2,000 which is exempt under the law; on the $2,000 falling into the tax group $2,000-$4,000, you will pay 2 per cent, or $40; on the $1,000 falling in the tax group $4,000-$5,000, you will pay 4 per cent, or $40; on the $1,000 falling in the tax group $5,000-$6,000, you will pay 5 per cent, or $50; making a total income tax of $130.

If you have two children under 18 years, you have an exemption of $200 for each, so that you would pay no tax on $4,000; 2 per cent on $1,600 between your $2,400 exemption and $4,000; 4 per cent on $1,000 between $4,000 and $5,000; 5 per cent on $1,000 between $5,000 and $6,000, making a total tax of $122.

COMBINED NORMAL AND SUPER-TAX RATES UNDER OLD AND NEW BILLS.—Note: Rates shown apply to amount of income falling within each tax group and not to the income as a whole.

EXCESS PROFITS TAX

The excess profits tax will impress every one who has to make a return under it as an example of barbaric frightfulness. It is unlike any tax ever imposed in any civilized country. By next March all American asylums will be full of people who lost their minds trying to calculate what they owed Uncle Sam under this terrible law. Law suits to determine its application will still be going when our great grandchildren are dead and buried.

Who must pay? Every corporation with a net income exceeding $3,000 and every partnership or individual with a net income derived from the operation of any kind of business which exceeds $5,000 for the present year is liable to pay a tax on the amount of its excess profits. This includes everybody that buys or sells anything, all kinds of agents and commission men, including commercial travelers, unless they are on a fixed salary without commissions. It also includes all kinds of professions. It hits farmers, doctors, lawyers, storekeepers, authors, real estate men, contractors, and, in fact, everybody that works who is not on a fixed wage or salary and has an income big enough to come within the scope of the law.

What are excess profits? Excess profits as now defined bear practically no relation to the amount earned before the war. If you want a rough idea of the excess profits of your business, take the amount by which its net income for 1917 exceeds 8 per cent on the capital invested, and subtract $5,000 from this if you are operating a partnership or individual business, and $3,000 if you are organized as a corporation. For example, suppose your capital is $100,000, and your net income is $20,000. Eight per cent is $8,000, to which you add $3,000 for a corporation and $5,000 for an individual or partnership, leaving the excess profits $9,000 for a corporation and $6,000 for an individual or partnership business.

If you want to know exactly, you will have to do some real figuring. Here's how you go about it:

First determine the net income of your business for each of the years 1911, 1912 and 1913, by subtracting from the gross amount of business done in each of these years the proper deductions for expenses, interest, taxes and depreciation, substantially as described for income taxes, except that you can not deduct gifts and charities.

On the amount—

Less than 15 per cent of capital you pay 20 per cent.
15 to 20 per cent of capital you pay 25 per cent.
20 to 25 per cent of capital you pay 35 per cent.
25 to 30 per cent of capital you pay 45 per cent.
More than 30 per cent of capital you pay 60 per cent.

To illustrate—Suppose your excess profits on $100,000 capital are $37,000, or 37 per cent.

On the amount—

Under $15,000 you will pay 20 per cent, or $3,000
$15,000 to $20,000 you will pay 25 per cent, or 1,250
$20,000 to $25,000 you will pay 35 per cent, or 1,750
$25,000 to $30,000 you will pay 45 per cent, or 2,800
More than $30,000 you will pay 60 per cent, or 2,400

Making the total tax $12,000

OTHER TAXES

This does not, however, begin to cover the multitude of taxes imposed by the new revenue bill.

In the first place there is an additional 4 per cent "corporation tax" which must be paid by every corporation upon the amount of its net income.

Then there are internal revenue taxes of $1.10 and $2.10 a gallon on distilled spirits, $1.50 a barrel on beer, 5 to 20 cents a gallon on syrups for soft drinks, 1 cent a gallon on grape juice, soft drinks, "near beer," etc.

Cigars are taxed from 25 cents to $7 per 1,000, depending on quality, with a tax of $1 per 1,000 on the five-cent variety. Cigarettes are taxed 8 to 12 cents per hundred.

Tobacco pays 5 cents a pound and cigarette papers 1 cent a hundred.

Then there are the transportation taxes, 3 per cent on all freight bills, 1 cent on each 20 cents of express bills, 8 per cent on passenger tickets and 10 per cent on Pullman car charges, and 5 cents on each telegraph or telephone message costing over 15 cents.

On all jewelry, autos, motorcycles, piano-players, phonographs and records in future 3 per cent of the sale price. New life insurance policies pay 8 cents for every hundred dollars of face value or if under $500 40 per cent of first weekly premium, and all other new insurance policies 1 cent for each dollar of the annual premium.

After 30 days the postal rate on all letters, except drop letters, will be 3 cents an ounce, and there will be an extra charge of 1 cent for each 25 cents charged on parcel post packages.

There are a new set of taxes on estates over $50,000, reaching 10 per cent on $100,000.

Yachts pay 50 cents to $2 per linear foot, and motor boats $5 each.

Sporting goods and cameras pay 3 per cent, toilet articles, patent medicines and chewing gum pay 2 per cent of the wholesale prices.

Tickets of admission to all kinds of amusements pay 1 cent for each 10 cents of the price. Taxes do not apply to movies where charge is 5 cents or less, or to other ten-cent shows.

And to wind up, there are a host of stamp taxes on all kinds of documents, the mere enumeration of which would occupy an entire column.

WOULD DO OWN CHOOSING.
(Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.)
King Alexander of Greece objects to the planning of his marriage by "elder statesmen" and insists on his right to select his own bride. It is said that his choice is not a foreign princess, but a young Greek woman, the daughter of a court official of high character. The king has had an illustration near at hand of consequences not beneficial to his country resulting from a marriage with a foreign princess. The "elder statesmen" would do well to withdraw their objections to his having his own way.

There is a convenience called the washing mitt. It is a little aluminum affair which is slipped over the hand, and on one side it is corrugated like a washboard. This is excellent for the washing of small and delicate articles. The most primitive order of mammals, the monotremes, are confined to Australia. There is the platypus, a strange beast which lays eggs like a turtle, has horny pads for teeth and a bill like the duck; its front feet are webbed and both back and front feet have claws. Little wonder that he has received many names or that his relatives in the scientific designation of animals are not infrequently paradoxical.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 4.—A stray cat which was taken into the Elzey restaurant by the proprietor after it had showed friendliness almost caused a panic in the crowded restaurant when it suddenly went mad and raced up and down the counters and along the shelves. MAY NOT WAIT ON SERVICE COMMISSION

Owners of the C. B. & C. Are Ready to Junk the Road.

Huntington, Ind., Oct. 4.—The Sonken-Galamba Iron and Metal company, of Kansas City, which bought the Cincinnati, Bluffton & Chicago railroad yesterday for the tearing up of the road. Six members of the firm came to Huntington yesterday and made a trip of inspection to familiarize themselves with their road and the facilities for shipping away the rails and other equipment they have bought. The men here are Herman Sonken, L. G. Galamba, J. J. Becker, J. B. Fink, G. E. Farmer and Sol Holofener. They have had charge of tearing up six dead railroad tracks this year.

Commission Not an Obstacle.
Herman Sonken, president of the company, did not regard the fact that the public service commission is trying to find a way to make the firm operate the road as a great obstacle, and said they would go ahead with their plans, which include putting wrecking crews to work within thirty days. It will take about a month to put the engines of the company and its employees on the job, and after once getting started it is estimated that every piece of equipment can be removed in thirty days. Railroad connections with the C. B. & C. afford several different shipping points, and crews will be put to work on different parts of the road.

Valuable Steel Rails.
Herman Sonken said he has an offer for the eighty-pound rails, at a price of $72 a ton, despite the fact that President Wilson has tried to set a maximum price for steel. Sixteen miles of the railroad is equipped with the standard eighty-pound rails, and part of the other thirty-six miles has eighty-pound rails.

The firm is still disposed to sell all or any part of the road, but it will not operate it themselves, according to a statement. The members of the firm said they would confer with commercial associations at Bluffton and Portland in regard to the sale of part of the C. B. & C. for the purpose of electrification. The men are enthusiastic about the bargain they got in the purchase of the road, and are anxious either to close a deal to sell the road, or to get crews at work wrecking it.

FOLKS ARE URGED TO EAT MORE VEGETABLES

And Save the Wheat and Meat for the Soldiers Across the Water.

An educational drive in the schools of Allen county is to be made this month, calculated to increase the wheat and meat reserves by means of a larger use of corn, vegetables and other products, this action being taken by Superintendent D. O. McComb at the request of the United States food administration and follows receipt of the following letter:
"A recent investigation shows that in one great American city there are thousands of children in that city who are undernourished that they can never be normal. Terrible as this situation is it does not approximate that in Europe. Moreover there is serious danger of its becoming worse.
"Our nation and our allies are confronted with a food situation of such grave menace that its solution requires the co-operation of every American home. The needs of our allies and of the soldiers we send across the sea cannot be met unless there are tremendous increases in our exports—wheat, meat, sugar and similar products. Increased demands present a problem that cannot be met unless in our homes such substitutions in the customary diet are made as will conserve our wheat and meat supply.
"In order to bring to the people of the country a realization of the gravity of the situation, a pledge card campaign, national in its scope, will be made during the week of October 21 to 23. During that period an effort will be made to pledge as many as possible of the 23,000,000 families to co-operate with the United States food administration in a policy calculated to increase our wheat and meat reserves by means of a larger use of corn, vegetables and other products. The success of the propaganda depends upon the force of the educational drive made.

"We shall send you in a few days a pamphlet for teachers which asks them to teach the children about food conservation and about the campaign. Will you, in the interest of our national safety and that of our allies, mail or hand a copy to each teacher in your county or district, so far as your supply lasts, except in towns or cities of 2,500 population or over? We are sending direct to the principals and superintendents in these cities. If you have not a sufficient number of copies to supply all of your teachers, one copy may do for a whole school in towns and consolidated districts. Will you also ask all of your teachers, by letter or otherwise, to help in every way that they can to make this work with the children effective in getting the pledge cards signed? The children, by helping, will do their part for the children of other countries."

WASTE COLLECTION TO BEGIN AT ONCE

Buglers Will Announce the Collectors for Women's Club League.

Contributed by Philanthropic Committee Women's Club League.) Fort Wayne has fallen in line quickly with the spirit of the campaign conducted by the philanthropic department of the Women's Club League to collect waste as a means of raising funds. The people generally approve of the movement and favorable comment is heard on all sides.

"No better movement than the waste saving campaign could have been launched to enlist all who are interested in united efforts for the common welfare," a member of the Women's Club League said yesterday. The idea of the two-fold purpose is gripping, and people have started to rummage through their catchalls and garrets with a vim.

In every household in Fort Wayne, especially at this time of the year, are to be found articles which are useless to the householder but which will be of value to the philanthropic department. Housewives can kill two birds with one stone by putting the waste into the bags that are being distributed—they can rid the premises of rubbish and can help a worthy charity.

The philanthropic department of the Women's Club League does splendid work in relieving distress and suffering among the city's poor and unfortunate. Clothes, shoes, many of whom would otherwise suffer from cold during the coming winter. A full bag of waste may mean a woman or child saved from suffering.

Besides the work of local relief, the waste collection accomplishes a national good. The waste which is useless to the householder is a valuable aid in certain lines of production. The saving of this waste from the scrap heap and converting it to good use will lessen the cost of paper and many other much-used products besides making it possible to put present sources of supplies for these products to other use.

sanitation are maintained and also to mediate in the event of disputes between the workers and the manufacturers.

"You can easily see the importance of this industry when you remember that the 687,000 drafted men must all be furnished with uniforms and that a large percentage of the 400,000 men in the national guard and the 300,000 of the regular army will shortly require new equipment.

"With a view to eliminating labor disputes and insuring steady progress on government contracts there has also been formed the national industrial conference board representing about 18,000 manufacturing and industrial organizations engaged directly or indirectly in the production of war supplies. This board will work in conjunction with the labor committee of the Council of National Defense, headed by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor."

"I heard men talking about the strikes today, Uncle Harry," said Jimmy, "and one of them said he thought it was unpatriotic to strike when the government is at war."

"That is a question, Jimmy," replied Uncle Harry, "to which, like all others, there are two sides. The labor union officials naturally resent the charge that they are unpatriotic in calling strikes at this time. They assert that the men are willing and anxious to co-operate with the government in the successful carrying on of the war industries; all that they ask is a wage sufficient to maintain their families in decent comfort in the face of the steadily rising cost of living. These wages increase, they maintain, the employers are well able to meet inasmuch as many of them made large profits on war contracts with the allies' governments and are now holding contracts with the United States government from which they will also profit. As proof that their motives are not unpatriotic they also call attention to the fact that the strikers subscribed to thousands of dollars' worth of liberty bonds.

"Furthermore, they insist that the standards of wages, hours and working conditions which have been secured by labor only after years of struggle be maintained. So you see, Jimmy, there's a good deal to be said on both sides of this strike question. 'Goodness, it's after 10 o'clock!' exclaimed Uncle Harry. 'If we're not careful your mother will be insisting on 'shorter hours' for the Uncle Harry club. I'll have to be going. Good night, boys.'"

Editor's Note—Uncle Harry will be glad to answer inquiries, either in this column or by mail, provided letters are signed with the full name and address of the persons writing. The correspondents' names will not appear in the articles.

BLACK ASSAILANT OF WHITE WOMEN KILLED

St. Louis Negro Who Made Attacks on Five Shot Trying to Flee.

St. Louis, Oct. 4.—Edward Wilson, a negro, who in the last week attacked five white women in revenge, he said, for the death of relatives killed in the riots in East St. Louis, Ill., July 2, was shot and killed on the street here last night by Joseph Cipolli, the escort of a girl he insulted last Sunday night.

Cipolli, with the aid of two friends and the police, laid a trap for the negro, and enticed him into an automobile. He became suspicious when the men drove toward the police station and jumped from the car. Cipolli drew a revolver and shot the negro five times as he ran. He fell dead.

The first attempt is about to be made to introduce standardized dress for women in California, by certain of the faculty of Stanford university who are members of an organization known as the Resartus club. The dress which they propose that women shall adopt is a two-piece costume of which the skirt is gathered and moderately full, the weight being allowed to fall from the shoulders. The waist is belted and hangs in straight lines. The costumes are being made by the school of design of the University of Missouri.

You know they are. Calumet is sure—never fails. That's economy. And true economy—in cost—in use—in time.

One trial will prove it and show you in results why millions of shrewd, thrifty housewives prefer Calumet to all other brands.

The unfailing strength of Calumet guarantees perfect results. Not only saves flour—eggs, etc.—but saves Baking Powder. You use only a teaspoonful—you use two teaspoonfuls or more of most other brands.

Calumet contains only such ingredients as have been approved officially by the U. S. Food Authorities.

Is there anything stranger than the undisputed fact that in Morocco pigs climb trees in search of nuts? Not only pigs but goats. The puzzle is not in the pigs and goats, however, for they are of the common variety that we see here. It is the tree that is strange. It is called the argan nut tree and it grows near Agadir. Usually it shoots out from a steep hillside. The trunk is broad and flat and almost horizontal, and so are the main branches, forming ample and solid foothold for any animal that may be tempted by the olive-shaped nuts growing within easy reach of the main branches.—Los Angeles Times.

The Doctor's Advice by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature. Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Edition, Chicago, Ill., enclosing self-addressed stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious names will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

"Bloodless" writes: "I sign after my name 'bloodless,' because that seems to be my condition. I am pale, thin and chilly all the time. My appetite is feeble, but even when I eat a great deal I do not gain in weight."

Answer: I would advise plenty of exercise and a persistent use of three-grain hypo-nutrient tablets to increase your blood and flesh. They tend to improve digestion and the proper absorption of nourishment. A gain of a pound or two a week is not unusual.

Mrs. P. G. writes: "I hesitate to ask advice as my case is so unusual. In a word, I am tired and worn out all the time. Rest does not refresh me. I have been married over a year and formerly did not know what it was to be tired or nervous. Sometimes I feel hysterical. I fear I will become a nuisance to my husband if it continues."

Answer: Your nervous system has been depleted. You need a tonic invigorating medicine that will aid in supplying more food-energy, to your nerves. Take three grain cod-liver oil tablets regularly for several months.

NOTE: For many years Dr. Baker has been giving free advice and prescriptions to millions of people through press columns and doubtless has helped in relieving illness and distress more than any single individual in the world's history. Thousands have written him expressions of gratitude and confidence.

Dr. Lewis Baker, Dear Sir:—In reading your good advice to others I have found relief. I enclose stamps, and please send me your "Great Guide Book, Health and Beauty," and I thank you for advice to others which so helped me. May your work go on. You will get better reward than money in helping so many who suffer and often cannot have a doctor, as there is no money to pay one. One of your many well-wishers, Sincerely, MISS C. H. Rheumatism Remarkable Home Cure Given by One Who Had It—He Wants Every Sufferer to Benefit.

Send No Money—Just Your Address.

Years of awful suffering and misery have taught this man, Mark H. Jackson, of Syracuse, New York, how terrible an enemy to human happiness rheumatism is and have given him sympathy with all unfortunate who are within its grasp. He wants every rheumatic victim to know how he was cured. Read what he says:

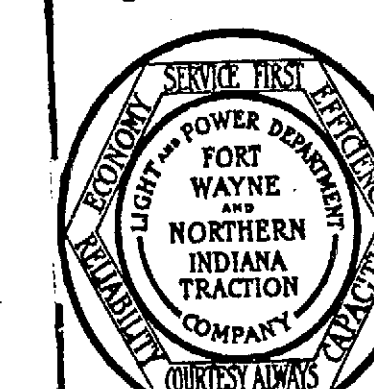

"In the spring of 1883 I was attacked by Muscular and Inflammatory Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who have it know, for over three years. I tried remedy after remedy, and doctor after doctor, but such relief as I received was only temporary. Finally, I found a remedy that cured me completely, and it has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted and even bedridden with Rheumatism, and it effected a cure in every case."

I want every sufferer from any form of rheumatic trouble to try this marvelous healing power. Don't send me a cent simply mail your name and address and I will send it free to try. After you have used it and it has proven itself to be that long-sought-for means of curing your Rheumatism, you may send the price of it, one dollar, but, understand, I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer when positive relief is thus offered you free? Don't delay. Write today. MARK H. JACKSON, No. 57D, Gurney Bldg., Syracuse, N. Y.

QUESTIONS. But it's early and I think I can give you a fair idea of what is being done about the strikes.

"To begin with," he continued, "do not get the idea that these labor troubles are taking place only in the United States. The same thing has occurred in practically every country at war, particularly in England, or at least we have heard more about the strikes in England than anywhere else. There have been reports from time to time of serious labor disturbances in Germany, but it has been very difficult, because of the censorship, to find out much about affairs there. In Great Britain the trouble has largely subsided, the government having given the question considerable attention with the result that a working basis was determined for most of the various labor groups that have proved satisfactory to both the men and their employers."

"So our own government quite naturally expected that many disputes would arise over the question of wages, hours, etc., and was, in a measure, prepared to meet them. My friend Captain Smith spoke about this at the cantonment the other day. He said that

UNCLE HARRY TELLS ABOUT STRIKE TROUBLES IN THE UNITED STATES

"Uncle Harry," said Jimmy, when the club had convened for its regular meeting, "Joe and I were talking this morning about the strikes that are going on in different parts of the country and he said we'd better ask you to talk about them this evening."

"Yes," exclaimed Helen, "I heard father talking about 'wage standards,' 'shipyard strikes' and such things last evening, but I couldn't make out what it was all about."

"Goodness," said Uncle Harry, settling back in his chair and smiling, "the members of this club have certainly formed the habit of asking big questions. But it's early and I think I can give you a fair idea of what is being done about the strikes.

"Haven't there been strikes in the New York garment shops that are making uniforms for the soldiers and sailors?" asked Helen.

BEN HUR COURT NO. 15

MIMICS CITY MARKET

Usual Hair Pulling Scenes
Enacted at Social Entertainment.

The ladies' degree team of the Ben Hur court, No. 15, gave a novel entertainment in the K. of P. hall Wednesday evening. While the crowd was held down to about 150 by the inclement weather, the interest did not lessen a bit. There were recitations, speeches and music, but the main thing was the mimic city market. The customary scenes were enacted, providing much merriment for all who were present. The hall was arranged with numerous tables all displaying some market articles, and as much bargaining took place as ever did at the market. After the market was sold out the ladies enjoyed a splendid lunch.

Had "Eats" Anyway.
The rain put a damper on the jubilee arranged by the Keklonga Review, No. 53, Woman's Benefit association of the Maccabees, which was to be held Wednesday night at their hall, over the App shoe store. Many who were on the program did not get there, the large attendance expected could not get there, but the refreshments scheduled for the evening had to be eaten so those in attendance started gallantly to the work of eating as much as they could. This jubilee was in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the order and the opening night of the winter series of lectures. The lectures will be started next Wednesday night instead.

---THE--- REFORMATION

LUTHER'S BIG DAY LUTHER'S THESES

Great Celebration of Reformation on Oct. 31, 1917.

They Started a Warm Debate 400 Years Ago.

ALL CHURCHES TO TAKE PART

THE SALE OF INDULGENCES

Special Sermons, Lectures and Jubilee Programs in Honor of Martin Luther and His Work—Famous Men Hall the Coming Celebration With Satisfaction—Lutheran Activities.

This Was Resolutely Opposed by Luther as Unchristian—Four Hundredth Anniversary of the Reformation to Be Widely Celebrated on Oct. 31 in Many Churches.

Martin Luther nailed his ninety-five theses on the castle church door at Wittenberg, October 31, 1517, and caused an upheaval in world conditions of such far-reaching importance that the four hundredth anniversary of that day will be very generally observed. The theses, topics to be discussed, with his students, dealt with certain practices in the established church which he opposed, but interests not directly a part of the church life of the day were soon affected—social economic and political and educational conditions felt the force of the new movement. It was revolutionary in character, and from its beginning the modern age is usually dated. Men like Luther, Zwingli, Calvin, Knox, who in their respective countries and in their own time advanced the reformation cause, will receive due recognition, but the main interest centers in what these men thought, believed, preached, taught; also in what they accomplished. Every pupil of Protestant persuasion and every Sunday school will recognize this anniversary in sermons, lectures and special jubilee programs. All the larger denominations have made preparations. The Federal Council

The Celebration Medal.

all of the Churches of Christ in America, representing over thirty denominations, is stimulating and directing the celebration from its national office in New York and from the office of its Special Celebration Committee in the Horner Building, Philadelphia.

Sentiment for the Celebration.
Familiar voices hail the coming celebration with satisfaction.

"Most certainly there should be a celebration of the Four Hundredth Anniversary of the Reformation," says Theodore Roosevelt.

"One can hardly look at the sky without seeing Luther's proclamation of October 31, 1517. The just shall live by faith," says John Wanamaker. "When Luther nailed his ninety-five propositions, or theses, on the door of the castle church it became the cradle of a new-born Protestant Church."

Jubilee Memorial Funds.
The College Board of the Presbyterian Church in the South is raising a large fund out of which to provide an endowed chair for teaching the Bible in English in each of its colleges. In the Reformed Church a fund has been established which, when completed, is to furnish the means for erecting the Philip Schaff Memorial Building in Philadelphia in memory of a member of that denomination and a great leader of the Protestant Church in America. The boards of education of seventeen denominations have inaugurated a program of activity to extend over several years in behalf of the Church colleges. In the Lutheran church the various funds collected are used for education, home and foreign missions and ministerial relief. The goal set by the Lutherans is $10,000,000.

Lutheran Activities.
The Lutheran Church has been especially active. The several branches of the Church have special committees at work. Most extensive preparations have been made under the direction of the Joint Lutheran Committee, which represents three of the foremost Lutheran national bodies, with headquarters in Philadelphia. There are over 200 local committees. Altogether a very considerable stock of celebration helps, pamphlet and book literature has been prepared for celebration use. Instead of concentrating upon one day, the year preceding Oct. 31, 1917, was designated as the anniversary season. Indoor mass meetings attended by as many as 10,000 persons have been held, while outdoor rallies attended by a great many more have been held during the summer months. Several anthems and motets have been composed. Medals, posters, stamps, banners and other paraphernalia are provided. The American Lutheran Publicity Bureau is especially active in spreading information.

Lutherans are taking advantage of the anniversary to get together. Three bodies have already merged. A second group of four district synods have united. Three other bodies which have been unusually active in the celebration are now in a movement which very likely will merge them.

The Climax.
All plans and activities are timed to culminate on or about the 31st of October. With this in view all the larger religious journals and many semi-religious periodicals have arranged for series of articles to appear in September and October. The celebration slogan is, "To celebrate the Reformation of the Sixteenth Century and to Hasten the Transformation of the Twentieth." All of the larger cities have organized community committees to conduct fitting celebrations.

When the crowds of worshippers in Wittenberg from all over Europe came to the Church they were astonished to find nailed to the door an announcement of a debate. It was not unusual to find such announcements on the Church door, for it was the University Bulletin Board. Professors and students made their announcements there. But this debate called in question the very thing for which they had all come to Wittenberg—the granting of indulgences by the Church.

Indulgences had been the custom in the Church for generations. They had gradually assumed a regular form and had finally become a business for raising money for Church purposes. A banking house in Germany, the Fuggers, handled the sale there. Indulgence was the remission of penalties imposed by the Church before complete forgiveness of sin was received. If the penalties were not paid for all sins before death they had to be paid in Purgatory. Indulgences, however, could be bought for the dead, releasing them from their pains. It soon became "pay your money and do what you please."

A Great Progressive.
This announcement of debate had been posted by Martin Luther, a monk of the order of Augustine Hermits. He was professor at the University and had received a Doctor's degree. He was a progressive, alive to the issues of the day. But most of all he was a man of conscience. He had struggled for years to attain peace with God, but had failed to find it through indulgences and the like. But when he put simple faith in Christ he found it, and after that he was the enemy of forms and empty observances.

When the Pope granted this indulgence Frederick, the ruler of Electoral Saxony, of which Wittenberg was the capital, forbade the agents of the Pope to sell indulgences in his territory. They came to nearby places and the people of Frederick's duchy went over the line and obtained them. The moral effect was bad. To clear up the whole question of indulgences, which was agitating everyone more or less, Luther proposed this debate. The matter had never been taken up and settled by the Church authorities.

Printer's Ink.
Luther's attitude was unmistakable. He was opposed to the whole thing as un-Christian. Many agreed with him.

BROTHERHOOD ENJOYS ITS ANNUAL BANQUET

Hicksville Entertains Large Number of Visitors from Surrounding Towns.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Antwerp, Ohio, Oct. 4.—The brotherhood of the Presbyterian church that went to Hicksville to attend the annual banquet, consisted of the number of 206. Of this number 88 were farmers. In the contest for the flag, Antwerp had a delegation of 79, as did Cecil, while Paulding lined up with 48. Lost Creek, 7. Cecil having been the winner last year, they very graciously voted that Antwerp receive the banner. A fine banquet was served at the Masonic hall, to which 284 done justice. The affair was a very enjoyable one for those in attendance.

Origin of Fire, Which Start-

Mystery.

(Special to The Sentinel.)
Woodburn, Ind., Oct. 4.—The plant of the Woodburn Tile and Brick company was partially wrecked by flames at 3 o'clock Thursday morning. The loss is estimated at $10,000, partly covered by insurance.

The fire started in the engine room. Cause of the blaze is a mystery.

Mrs. Elmer Hefley, who lives near the plant, was awakened and noticed the flames, which had already gained a good headway. The neighborhood was aroused and an attempt was made to extinguish the fire with water carried from a nearby pond. The flames had gained such headway that could only be checked.

E. C. Overmeyer, Henry Templement and Ben Nine, of Fort Wayne, are heavy stockholders in the plant.

MILITARY NEWS RAILROAD MEN NEEDED

FOR ENGINEER UNIT

Another Call Issued for Conductors and Brakemen to Fill Quota.

A call has been issued for more men to fill the engineer unit which Fort Wayne is organizing. Last Saturday sixty-five men from various railroad positions left for Camp Grant, at Rockford, Ill. More men are needed to fill this twenty-first engineer unit, and the recruiting station is anxious to fill this second quota as soon as possible. Firemen, brakemen, conductors, switchmen or any others are wanted. This unit is to be a non-combatant force and is to be used exclusively in transporting troops and provisions.
Those enlisting and passing the examination may qualify for the same positions which they now hold. The training of this unit will be brief and they will leave immediately for France.

The call for railroad men is no doubt deliberate to the transportation here, but everyone will be willing to put up with that inconvenience it may cause the "stay-at-home" when he knows that it is those sacrifices which we make at home which will aid our troops most in the final victory. This unit is not confined solely to the men of one railroad system or to those from any one city, but any railroad man from any place is eligible for this company. Many came to the first quota from Garrett, Gary and other railroad towns and many more will no doubt come to this second call from these places.

Visits Set at Camp Mills.

Dr. D. C. Kauffman and Dr. L. L.
Meyers, of Monroeville, are visiting the forms on Daniel, stationed at Camp
Mills, La., with Battery F, field artillery.

To Receive Yarn.

The announcement that a quantity of yarn would be received here soon by the Red Cross lessened the worry which the scarcity of the article has been causing.
The yarn is to be sent out from Cleveland, which is the headquarters of the lake division, of which the Fort Wayne chapter is a part.

Given Commission.

George W. Martin, of Ossining, New York, and connected with Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co., has received his commission as first lieutenant of the engineering corps. Mr.
Martin came to this city last March with the above mentioned firm as assistant superintendent and has made quite a number of friends here who will be glad to hear of his success in army work. He is expecting to be called at any time.

SEED CORN SELECTION WEEK OCT. 15 TO 20

Campaign Will Be Waged
Among Farmers and in the Schools.

A. J. Hutchins, agricultural agent of Allen county, and D. O. McComb, superintendent of the schools of the county, are making great preparations for seed corn selection week, which has been set for October 15 to October 20. Seed corn selection week will be observed throughout the entire state.

Mr. Hutchins is planning for a special drive in the interest of seed corn selection among the farmers and Mr.
McComb in the schools of the county.

Corn is the most valuable crop produced in Indiana. A full standard and a high yield depend largely on field selected seed. This seed must be selected before the first heavy frost.

BIG LEAGUERS WILL PLAY FOR SOLDIERS

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 4.—President Hermann, of the Cincinnati Nationals and Dunn, of the Cleveland Americans, announced today that the two teams would play a game of baseball at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., on the first day following the conclusion of the series for the Ohio state championship, which starts in this city today. At the time of the request national commission meeting at Chillicothe was received regarding the two teams to come there. The national commission at that time could not take official cognizance of these games but gave permission to any and all national agree-

HOLE AT TRANSFER CORNER CAUSES SUIT

John D. Fairfield Brings Action Against City
for $5,000.

A hole in the pavement at the transfer corner is responsible for a $5,000 damage suit filed in the circuit court Thursday by John D. Fairfield, 1829 Hillside avenue, against the city of Fort Wayne.

Fairfield, who is a contractor, alleges that on June 9, 1917, he alighted from a Spy Run car at the transfer corner and was running to catch a Broadway car when he stepped his foot into a hole, dislocating the ankle and causing a very serious injury, from which he has not as yet fully recovered. He is represented by Attorney Harry H. Hilgemann.

SUIT FOR $12,000 DAMAGES

Filed in Federal Court Against Wabash Portland Cement Co.

Suit for $12,000 damages for alleged failure to live up to a contract has been filed in the federal court by the Fairbanks Steam Shovel company, through Attorneys Barrett, Morris and Hoffman, against the Wabash Portland Cement company.

The complaint sets out that on June 15, 1916, the plaintiff and defendant entered into a written contract, the former agreeing to build, erect and deliver to Stroh, Ind., one complete one and one-half yard dipper dredge at the price of $18,000, payable 20 per cent of contract price on completing shipment of hull, 20 per cent on completing shipment of machinery, 30 per cent on completing the erection of the dredge and 30 per cent after acceptance by the defendant, subject to thirty days' test run. The Fairbanks company claims that its part of the contract was carried out and that the defendant has paid all but $10,- 800, which is now due and with interest will amount to $12,000.

FEARS HER HUSBAND.

Caroline Ertel Says She Can No Longer

Ertel. She says that he has threatened to do her bodily harm and she fears that he will carry out his threat. They

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If Tongue Is Coated Give "California
Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue; mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Advertisement.

ARE FIGHTING FOR AN IDEAL

America Must Give Her All
to Free German People, Says Vrooman.

PLANT FOR LIBERTY, IS SPEAKER'S THEME

Good Crowd Gathered at Court House Despite Rain Downpour.

"We are fighting the old fight," proclaimed Carl Vrooman, assistant secretary of agriculture, in his address at the assembly room of the court house, Wednesday night.

"We are fighting for the principles of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley. We are fighting to blast the hellish dream of a national power which accepted the devil's offer of world power by falling at his feet. We are fighting to free the German people themselves from a terrible philosophy."

"People who ask why are we at war at this time are either ignorant or have yellow blood in their veins instead of red blood. We are going to stand together in a stand to the death against the ambition of the Hohenzollerns who would build a world power upon the fragments of human liberty."

"The United States either had to enter this war or stand as a silent partner with Germany. We had to oppose the war plan or be accessories to the numberless crimes."

"A small minority of business interests, which would grasp at this time when help is needed has caused this government more trouble than the pro-Germans, the pacifists or even the I. W. W.'s. In every crisis there are always a few who are selfish, sordid, sullen, yellow, disloyal."

"Everybody should save and everybody should plant. Every boy and girl should have the right to work in a garden as an act of doing their bit in this conflict."

Vrooman spoke at length upon the effort of farmers in many parts of the United States who are giving every moment of their time in order to aid the country. He emphasized again and again that all should do and give. Time and again the crowd, which filled the court house assembly room, cheered the earnest little man who was speaking from the convictions of his heart and with no effort at oratorical success.

The food garden day effort is voted a success despite the day of rain which kept the crowds away. There was much food stuff on display at the ball park in the afternoon. There had been much patriotic effort expended in getting ready for the meeting. All who did attend the programs were thrilled by the speeches and are determined to give their best efforts for food raising next year.

Mayor William J. Hoxey presided over the afternoon meeting. He introduced Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university and Rev. Christian Sihler, of Cleveland, who spoke on subjects of food conservation and American's duty.

Food Most Important.
Dr. Stone had the following to say about the part which beans and potatoes are to play in beating Kaiser William:

"The importance of food production and food conservation cannot be overestimated. Food is what will win the great conflict. Do not doubt that. Whatever you do in the way of increasing crops, of enlarging planted acreage, of raising produce, and cultivating war gardens you are aiding the government in the most effective way, and this is not even secondary to the soldier in the ranks, for without food he cannot fight."

"Indiana has responded splendidly to the call. The agricultural statistics for the year show that this state has raised over a million acres of corn, increase over the previous records, and farmers responded by sowing three million acres in wheat and building 3,000 more silos on their farms. We could do three times as much if we tried. Let everybody do their bit, especially you people in the cities who have access to war gardens only."

Must Save Germany.
"We must save Germany for herself. She is mad with a false philosophy," said Rev. Christian Sihler in his address.

He presented letters containing facts and statistics relative to the Prussianizing of Germany and the war spirit of her rulers which brought on the great world conflagration drenching Europe with blood during the past three years.

Carl Vrooman gave a brief talk, addressing himself largely to the youths of the Boys' Reserve. He told about affairs in Washington and how the leaders are looking to the boys who grow stuff to save the land. He urged every person with a ten foot lot to plant and raise food stuff.

Was Truly Rural.

The garden display, heaped upon long tables and bearing the names of half a hundred Fort Wayne citizens, appeared truly rural. Many of the fruits and vegetables on exhibit outdied in size the prize products of the county fair days.

Among the exhibitors whose war garden products were attracted attention are the following: Alexander Wilson, 1304 Park avenue; Rev. M. L. Buckley; Frank Hilgeman; Charles E. Crum, 1433 Edgewater avenue; William Light and sons, potatoes, 404 Perry street; R. Louin, 719 Third street; John Zuber, Piqua avenue; Otto Bender, 640 Lawton place; Carl Centlivre, 634 Lawton place; C. E. Agnew, Southwood park; Mrs. James Cranston, 644 West Third street; F. W. Miles, 1225 Oakdale drive; Elmer C. Botterson, 611 Buchanan street; Boy Scout troop No. 10; Corporal L. W. Johnson, 1210 Columbia avenue; Lakeside; Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Thieme; Christ Hahn, 532 West Main street; O. N. Hart, 3201 Fairfield avenue; F. A. McMahon, 1427 Calhoun street; W. S. Chiefer, 730 Florida drive; A. McCumsey, 225 East DeWald street; W. S. Richey, 2129 Weiser park; Frank Weber, corner Hanna and McKinley avenue; Swartz Mahurin, South Fairfield avenue; Henry Reehling, 445 East Taber street; Frank Harp, Lafayette place addition, through courtesy of the Wildwood Builders; C. F. Bollinger, 809 Cottage avenue; Gust Stels, 605 Archer avenue; C. J. Whiting, 1011 Monroe street; F. C. Rayhouser, 2659 Crescent avenue; Mr. Sauter, 2435 Weiser Park; Robert Kelly, West Third street; Frank Gunnison, 3106 Broadway; A. Zollinger, 2234 Chestnut street; N. Fraunfelder, 813 Madison street.

A record in peas was established at the stand of the Gramere Heights garden exhibit in charge of W. E. Grover. Miss Stearnes raised the peas which were the largest shown. Nine-year-old Virginia Hilgeman had on exhibition leaves of some made bread to testify to her skill as a baker. Rev. L. M. Buckley's exhibit bore this notice: "Gardening is an antidote for preaching and helps to overcome the pastor's blue Mondays."

F. A. McMaken, 1427 North Calhoun street, had a remarkable display of canned goods, which he has put up himself. There were canned beets, fruits, beans and vegetables of all varieties. Mr. McMaken stated that he has 300 other cans of preserved fruit at home.

All Praise Hilgeman.

Every speaker paid a passing tribute to the effort of Frank Hilgeman who has been the moving spirit in preparing for a food demonstration. The fact that the incessant showers ruined the attendance at the afternoon and evening programs does not detract from the patriotic work of the real estate man who has given the attention of his every waking hour for the past week to the planning for the food show.

"It is the finest sort of public spirit which Fort Wayne has displayed in Mr. Hilgeman," said Carl Vrooman, who impresses one as meaning everything he says.

To Frank Hilgeman more than to any other person is due the success of Fort Wayne food gardens this year and he will continue the campaign for a bigger yield of food within the city next season. It is but justice to say that Mr. Hilgeman has neglected his business as a realty dealer in his effort to interest Fort Wayne people in producing more food and the finest part of it all is that the man does not consider a moment lost, which he has given to the work.

In summing up the summer's effort a share of credit should fall to Mike Costello, retired farmer, who has given of his time since spring, without pay, in directing plowing and giving advice on food cultivation.

Vrooman's Night Speech.

Following is the text of the address which Carl Vrooman delivered at the court house Wednesday evening:

"The farmers and the housewives of the United States hold in their hands the power of victory in the world war. Just as truly as 'Little Round Top' was the key to Gettysburg and, through Gettysburg, to the union and solidarity of this nation, just that truly is America's mighty store of food, if it is conserved and utilized, the key that will swing back the last barrier of absolutism and give democracy free range of the world."

"The happiness, the material comfort, the spiritual status of the nations of the earth, little and large, rest with the men and women in America who produce food and who conserve it. They are in a position more favorable than they have occupied before, but the need for heroism, for sacrifice, for service that must be unceasing and that may mean self-immolation, still exists. Six months ago, the soldiers in the fight for food were called upon to make a desperate charge. They made that charge with a dash and disregard for danger as great as that of the Light Brigade at Balaklava, with a determination that neither the Tenth legion nor the old guard ever surpassed. Now, the position so gallantly taken must be as gloriously held."

Enough For All.

"There is enough food in sight to feed the world, and food is the weapon with which the war must be won. Not long ago, Lloyd George was quoted as saying that if he were asked to state the allies' greatest need, he would say, 'ships'; that if he were then asked to state the next greatest need, he would again say, 'ships'; and that if he were still asked to state the next greatest need, he would still say, 'ships.' Yet that is not exactly what the premier of Great Britain meant. Ships are of no avail except as they carry consumable things. What the indomitable little Welshman meant was, 'Bread, and again bread, and still bread.'"

"We have produced enough of that commodity to keep the world going until another harvest. But no human voice can say that victory will be won by that flesh and blood. We may win, but from the beginning all the way, this has been a war of wonders. Who, in the summer of 1914, would have dared predict that after three years the war would still be raging as fiercely as ever? And who, in the light of that surprise, would dare now predict peace for any definite time? We can only pray that the deluge of sorrow and blood and death may cease—pray, yes, and plant, and preserve."

A Glorious Record.

"The farmers of America have made this summer past, a glorious record. On the very day that war was declared, six millions of them were mobilized; yes actually in the field. They waited for no guarantee. They quibbled for no price. They were told that the nation needed them to plant to the very limit, and they did. In doing so, millions of them risked bankruptcy and, despite the good fortune that has attended their efforts, tens of thousands of them actually incurred bankruptcy or impaired fortune. The department of agriculture was not on a war basis—did not succeed in getting on a war basis until three months after war was declared. There was no legal way to guarantee to the farmer a fair return."

"As the result of that patriotic effort, there is being harvested from our peaceful fields today, the greatest corn crop ever grown by human hands and, I believe, the greatest single force ever exerted in human warfare. I have no doubt that the full significance of it is realized at Wilhelmstrasse, and I like to think that the Kaiser, on his tottering throne of skulls, will go down beneath that flood of golden grain."

Much More Than Average.

"The corn crop totals three and a quarter billion bushels, half a billion bushels in excess of the average. The potato crop is a hundred million bushels in excess of the average. The same percentage of increase holds with every other crop except wheat."

"Just as significant as the stupendous production in the fields is the colossal conservation in the homes. Hundreds of millions of bushels of food that would ordinarily have gone to waste, fruits and vegetables that are as essential as meat and bread, is safely stored in cans and jars in the homes of the nation, and will release just that much other food for transport to our armies and the armies of our allies."

"But, even so, the task of keeping the armies of freedom with full stomachs and in high heart is a grim and relentless task. For, to keep heart in a soldier, there must be the feeling that not only will he be fed himself but that the loved ones back home will be fed—and the vulture of famine was hovering low over many lands when the American farmer and the American housewife came to the rescue."

"The all important thing just now is that no part of the food produced shall be allowed to go to waste. There must be community warehouses to take care of the surplus of potatoes, many of them in the hands of farmers who are not ordinarily potato growers but who grew potatoes this year as a patriotic service. Extreme care must be taken that the supply of breeding stock is not drawn from the farms into the markets by the high price of meats. More live stock on every farm in the United States is just as much a necessary war measure as more merchant ships and more airplanes."

Plans for Next Harvest.

"Even before the present crop is gathered, plans must be made for the next harvest. Even if the war should end the world will be hungry none the less. Not for a number of years can the devastated places of Europe feed themselves. The task must remain, for a long while yet, with the American farmer. He must produce to the limit, but he must produce so wisely that the practices of good farming will not be disturbed, that rotations will not be upset, that fertility will not be depleted, that the possibility of short crops in other years will be avoided."

"To look wisely ahead is important—but to act wisely and frugally with what we have is imperative. Every housewife should know that she has a duty just as important as that of the food producer. Every housewife can be a food conservator. Our experts tell us this country wastes in its kitchens every year $700,000,000 worth of food. In time of peace the waste of food is reprehensible, but in time of war the waste of food is not merely reprehensible, it is criminal. It is disloyal. It must be stopped. The women will have difficulty in overcoming their own pride in the matter—for we have lots of false pride in this country."

"We talk loudly about our waste, but down deep in our hearts most of us have a sneaking pride in the food we squander that other people need. We must have a change of heart, not only the women, but the men, because the average man likes to see a table loaded with food, not only enough food to eat, but enough to bathe in. That is a barbarous attitude. The French women have a more artistic point of view. They have just enough placed on the table to stimulate while at the same time satisfying the appetite. It is a matter of pride with them not to put on too much. They consider it vulgar, they consider it barbarous, and by them food is never, never wasted, not an ounce, even in times of peace. Until the American housewife becomes as proud of efficiency, artist in thrift and economy in the household as in the past she has been proud of prodigality and profusion and waste, this terrible waste of human food is going to continue. And remember this, that for every pound of food that is wasted this year some starving human being is going to suffer."

Cut Down on Meat.

"Everyone of us ought to take upon himself or herself the responsibility of taking an active part in this campaign for the production and the conservation of food. We shouldn't eat meat three times a day. In times of peace I do not care how much you eat, though it is not a wholesome thing to do at any time. They found in Germany when they cut off two-thirds of the meat, the mortality rate went down 33 1-3 per cent, that one-third of the people who had been dying had been gorging themselves to untimely graves."

"We are doing the something. Our hotels and clubs ought to stop serving such immense portions. You go in and order a portion of roast beef or roast mutton and they bring you enough for a family. If you do not eat it you

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a Glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys If Bladder Bothers
You.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headache, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts, or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

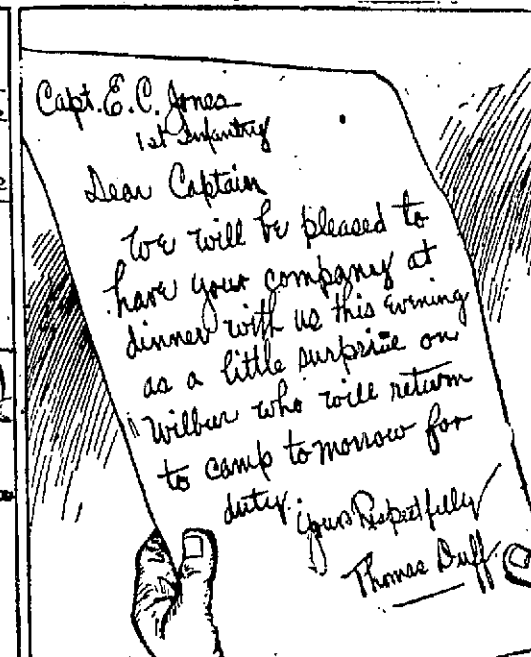

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.—Advertisement.

have wasted it. If you do eat it you have worse than water it. If the clubs start a propaganda of serving small war portions, the hotels and restaurants would follow suit. The tractor club gave me a dinner in Kansas City. When they invited me to dinner I said, 'I will accept on one condition, if you will make it a three-course war dinner.' That is the only kind of dinner for a patriotic American in these days. That is what the president is eating in the white house. That is what the members of the cabinet are eating. This is the time when there must be no wasters, no slackers, no idlers of either sex. It is a chance for every man, woman and child to do something to help their country to a quick and decisive victory. The opportunity is yours and mine. I believe we are going to arise to this emergency like—Americans."

MOST ELIGIBLE MAN TO SUCCEED TY COBB

George Sisler Kept Out of Professional Baseball Until He Gained Engineering Degree and Then Got a $5000 Contract Bonus.

BY J. B. SHERIDAN.

SINCE George Sisler, the Michigan collegian, entered the ranks of professional baseball in mid-summer 1915, he has been regarded as the man who would succeed Cobb as king of the ballplayers. That was a large order to fill. Many good judges of players and of baseball hooted at the idea of Sisler, a college boy, being Cobb's successor.

Yet it seems to have come to pass, in two seasons, that Sisler is second to Cobb, second only to the mighty Georgian and, to some extent, almost his equal.

Sisler's present batting record is, all things considered, better than the great batting record of Cobb.

The averages at this writing are: Cobb, .375; Sisler, .353.

Cobb has been on the greatest batting spree of his life. He has just finished hitting safely in thirty-three games. He has hit .500 and over on several series. No such hitting spree has ever been known in baseball.

Yet for all of Cobb's mighty work, Sisler is but .23 points behind him.

Add to this that Cobb has been playing with a team that has been climbing, while Sisler has been playing with a team that has been declining; that Cobb has had twelve years' experience in the major league and one in the minor leagues, where Sisler has had just two years' experience in the majors and none in the minors, that Cobb is sound as a nut, while Sisler has been playing with a sore thumb, a sore heel and two bad ankles, and you will understand why Sisler's record has been so wonderful.

Cobb Had Assistance.

Sisler has not scored the runs that Cobb has scored because the St. Louis team has not the men behind Sisler that Detroit has, behind Cobb. Sisler has hit in a lot of runs. So has Cobb. In point of runs scored and bases stolen, Sisler is far behind Cobb. In scoring runs and stealing bases you must have assistance from other players. Sisler has had no such assistance. Cobb has had it.

Therefore, to make a fair comparison between Sisler and Cobb, we must take them on batting only. In that regard Sisler compares very favorably with Cobb.

It cannot be truthfully said that Sisler at all approaches Cobb as a force in a ball game, as a base runner or as a run scorer. But Sisler has clearly made good the claims made for him, that he is the most eligible man baseball has to succeed Cobb. Of this there can be no doubt.

George Harold Sisler is quite a young man. He is 25 years old and was born near Akron, Ohio, of working people, from whom the best athletes always spring. The lad was, in high school when he first attracted attention. A minor league umpire named Tennant was the original discoverer of Sisler. He saw him pitch a game of baseball for his high school team. Sisler struck out some twenty of his opponents that day. Tennant brought the matter to the notice of Lee Fohl, manager of the Akron professional baseball club, who now is manager of the Cleveland American League team. Fohl asked Tennant to sign Sisler, then 17 years old, to an Akron contract. Tennant fulfilled the commission.

Sponsor Was Displeased.

When the principal of the high school learned that Sisler had signed a contract to play professional ball he was surprised and displeased. He had taken a great interest in the young athlete and had planned that he should take the engineering course at the University of Michigan. Of course, Sisler could play professional baseball and also take the engineering course, but the high school principal had an eye to Sisler's all-around welfare. To that end he wanted Sisler to take part in athletics in college, to play on the baseball and football teams. If he was a professional athlete, Sisler could not take part in college sports. And taking part in college sports materially assisted a young man through college.

So, before the youngster had played a game or worn a uniform for Akron, the high school principal induced him to reconsider his determination to play professionally. Sisler's father, who was very eager that his son should succeed in college, refused to give his assent to his son playing professional baseball. So Sisler went to college and did not play professional ball just then.

But he became a baseball chatter, a subject of barter just the same. The Akron club was owned by the Columbus club. So, when Akron finished its short season, it transferred Sisler's contract, signed by a 17-year-old boy, to Columbus. Columbus, in turn, transferred the contract to Pittsburgh. Thereby hangs a tale.

Sisler went to Michigan and played baseball. He came under the eye of Branch Rickey, then coach of the Michigan baseball team, a former big league player and later to be manager of the St. Louis Americans, and president of the St. Louis Nationals.

Sisler was fortunate in meeting Rickey, a first-class coach, an energetic and able all-around baseball man. Rickey at once saw the merit in Sisler as a ballplayer. He treasured him as the apple of his eye.

Outclassed College Players.

Sisler made a wonderful record as a college baseball player. He pitched, played first base and the outfield and was the team's best batter. Michigan played all the great colleges of the East and Middle West. Sisler simply outclassed all the college players he competed with. He pitched wonderful games, he made two and three doubles, triples or home runs in almost every game. In fact, he was the entire Michigan team. Sisler would have made a great football player, too, but Fielding Yost, Michigan's great football mentor, advised him that his baseball future was too brilliant, too valuable to be risked by playing the glorious but unprofitable game of football.

"You should make a wonderful football player," said Yost, "and I would love to have you on my team. But you are a poor young man and have a small fortune waiting for you in baseball. My advice to you is to take no chances of being injured in football and to make baseball your only athletic study."

As may be imagined, a college player who was shutting out opposing teams, striking out from ten to twenty-one batters right along and filling the score book with singles, doubles, triples and home runs, as well as playing first base and the outfield, attracted a lot of attention from professional baseball clubs. Sisler was embarrassed with offers. He refused them all until he had graduated in engineering at Michigan.

The Pittsburgh club, however, let it be known that Sisler was under contract to it—Pittsburgh had bought the contract Akron had transferred to Columbus—and that under baseball law clubs which attempted to deal with Sisler were subject to fine and reprimand. This statement of the Pittsburgh club kept most of the major league teams away from Sisler.

Branch Rickey, however, was a lawyer as well as a baseball coach and major league player. Rickey felt that Sisler's contract, obtained when he was 17 and repudiated by his father, would not hold in the state courts or the courts of baseball. Rickey had formed a connection with the St. Louis club, in fact, had entered its employ as a scout for young players and had plans to become its president. He wanted Sisler for two reasons. The first was that he loved the lad whom he had taken from high school and coached through four college seasons, coached in studies as well as in baseball, and because, as future officer of the St. Louis club, he wanted a great ballplayer.

Repudiated Youthful Contract.

So, when Sisler finished his engineering course and was ready to accept an engagement as a professional baseball player, Rickey advised him to disregard the contract he had signed with Akron and to offer his services to as many clubs as he could and to accept what appeared to him to be the best offer.

Sisler took this advice. He offered his services to six major league clubs, among which were Pittsburgh and the St. Louis Americans.

St. Louis made Sisler the best offer. It was something like $5,000 a season and a contract and $2,500 a season salary for two seasons.

Rickey made this offer for Sisler. It may be that he had the "inside track," that he knew what other clubs had offered Sisler and "raised the ante." The chances are that Rickey, knowing just how great a player Sisler was, was in a position to offer more for him than any other person. To the other major league clubs Sisler was just a crack college player. Crack college players rarely are of big league caliber. Hence, big league clubs cannot reasonably offer them such a large sum as Rickey offered Sisler.

Sisler joined the St. Louis Americans. Rickey was then the manager of that team. Sisler made good right off the reel. Rickey had claimed that Sisler was an American League pitcher, an American League first baseman and an American League outfielder.

These claims seemed to be ridiculous. Had Rickey merely claimed preeminence in one department of the game for Sisler he could have been credited. But when he said that Sisler was a great major league pitcher, a great major league first baseman, a great major league outfielder and a great major league hitter, the baseball world rose up and, like the Irishman when he saw his first giraffe, said:

Makes Good on Jump.

"Tain't so. There ain't no such animal."

But there was. Sisler proved himself to be all, and more, than Rickey claimed for him.

He beat great pitchers like Walter Johnson and Guy Morton—Morton was having a wonderful year then—in special games by close scores. He lost to Morton, 2-1, in an extra inning game at Chicago, and the following week beat Walter Johnson, 1-0, in St. Louis. Sisler repeated and repeated his wonderful pitching. He was a trifle wild, as might be expected from a boy who was having his first season in any league and who was pitching in field and outfield when not pitching.

But Sisler made good as a major league pitcher right at the jump. Rickey says today that Sisler can win any championship into which his team may go because he can win three games in one series. Rickey insists that Sisler has the best curve ball of any pitcher in baseball.

When Sisler was not pitching he was playing first base, and when he was not pitching or playing first base he was pitching the outfield. Rickey's team was in a frightful slump and it had to draw people at the gate. So Rickey was using Sisler as his drawing card. The young man was getting more press stuff than Charlie Chaplin ever got and Rickey was working that to the limit. He had Sisler in to pitch against all the best pitchers in the league, advertised the game so that people would come out to see the college wonder. Then he advertised Sisler to play first base against Chase or to play center field against Speaker, all to draw money enough to keep his club going.

Sisler made good in every way. He beat Walter Johnson on the rubber, he gave Cobb a game at the bat, he played a dandy first base, though not quite as good a one as Chase, and he played a fine center field, though not so good a one as Speaker. Yet, if he failed to equal Cobb, Chase or Speaker in their specialties, he made good all around, proved to the satisfaction of the baseball world that he was the most likely man to succeed Cobb as the greatest of ballplayers.

Sisler is really a great pitcher, but he hurt his left shoulder in a basketball game and it stiffens up on him after pitching a hard game of baseball. So it was deemed wise not to risk his arm on the rubber. He can play a splendid first base—not three men exceed him there, though he is still green in the position.

Weak on Overhead Flies.

He played a fine outfield, though he is not expert in going back on fly balls. Without doubt he could play as great an outfield as any man had in the position at that department.

We have already spoken of what Sisler can do at the bat. His hitting is practically equal to that of Cobb, though he has been handicapped by a sore thumb, a sore heel and two sore ankles during June and July. Just the same, he hit almost .500 in those months.

When it is understood that experts agree that it takes four years of play out there every day, to properly school a young man in the mechanics of baseball, Sisler's early excellence is all the more remarkable. It is true that he has had four years of college baseball, but college baseball really means about one month's play, especially at a Northern college such as Michigan is. It is true that the boys begin practice in March, but anyone who has been through a Michigan March knows what slender opportunities it affords for play at baseball. The weather is cold in Michigan until May 15. The college baseball season ends June 20. So Sisler really had one month of play each season where he should have had from five to seven months to get the schooling in the mechanics of the game.

Sisler's greenness, his lack of the polish which practice alone gives a ballplayer, is apparent to this day. He is just beginning to "make pitchers pitch." In previous years he had the amateur's weakness of going after everything a pitcher tossed him. The skilled batter always waits for the "good one." Sisler, in his fourth major league season, is beginning to wait for the good one. This explains his excellent hitting in 1917.

Many players hold that Sisler is the superior of Chase at first base. I cannot subscribe to that belief. Sisler may, some day equal or surpass Chase. At present, Chase knows how to make plays that Sisler has never dreamed of. It would be a good thing for Sisler if he could see Chase play a few of his good games. Presumably Sisler can do anything that Chase can do. He has two legs, two eyes, two arms and two hands. He has not had the experience that Chase has had, and he has yet to show the initiative, the originality of the peerless Californian.

Is an Ideal Athlete.

So, too, it is presumable that Sisler may excel Speaker in the outfield, or Cobb on the bases. He is as fast, if not faster, than either of the old stars, has a good arm, too. But he has not had the experience of either Speaker or Chase, nor has he shown the rare originality of either.

It may all come to him, though. Bunting has come to him. Not that he could not hit, not that batters may be made when not born; he is simply getting the experience that years of daily play alone can give.

Sisler is an ideal athlete. One hesitates to say just how good a boy he is, lest the reader be led to believe him a mollycoddle, which he is not. Sisler does not smoke, drink liquors, chew or use any sort of bad language. More wonderful still, he never cared much for the ladies, though as attractive to them as a good-looking and much-published young athlete can be attractive. In fact, when Rickey told a reporter that Sisler did not drink, use tobacco or warm language, or go with the girls, the reporter once more said: "Tain't so. There ain't no such animal."

But there is. Sisler is all of these things. He rarely uses language of any sort, cool or warm. He is as silent as marble. That he ever drank no one can prove. No one ever saw him drink liquor. Nor use tobacco. He married the first girl he ever knew, a co-ed at Ann Arbor.

Sisler is as modest as a girl.

You can make him blush by rallying him just as you might make a country girl blush, by rallying her. He is so backward that he will not open his mouth among strangers. He is very sensitive and cannot endure "riding" or "rushing" in a ball game. Very quiet, he will fight quickly. He has been known to wreck a clubhouse when goaded into battle. For Sisler is strong as a young lion.

A Sagacious Bird.

A very curious nest is made by the tall bird of India, a tiny yellow creature. To escape snakes and monkeys, this bird takes a dead leaf, flies up into a tree, and with a fiber for a thread and its bill for a needle sews the leaf to a green one hanging from the tree. The sides are sewn up, an opening to the nest thus formed being left at the top. The leaf, apparently hanging from a twig, would never be taken for a nest.

On the Reverse.

"Oh, madam," said Jane to her mistress on returning from an errand, "there's been a young man following me!" "Indeed!" replied her mistress. "Yes, madam, I know he was a following me, because he kept looking round to see if I was a coming!"

Y'S SERIES WILL THE COMING COMBAT

all is considered it is likely that the latter's greater experience will slightly outweigh Holke's speedier footwork. The margin of advantage is so small one way or the other that so far as forecasts are concerned the two players may be said to be equal in offensive and defensive work. Two of the best second basemen in the history of the league will be opposed at the midway sack and the struggle for honors between Eddie Collins and Charlie Herzog should be one of the thrilling features of the series. World series play is no longer a novelty to either as Collins has participated in four such conflicts while a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, and Herzog has seen service in three series with the Giants. Both are noted for their ability to rise to extreme heights of play at times and from their keystone position to dominate the work of the entire infield combinations.

Herzog, owing to the injury to his back, due to a fall earlier in the season, has not played as regularly as Collins and there is just the bare possibility that he may not be available for the series, but this chance is so remote that he can for comparative purposes be considered as the Giant's second baseman. If it proves to be otherwise the stock of the New York club will suffer a severe slump even before the first ball is pitched. As their records stand for the season Collins had the better of Herzog in batting, fielding, stolen bases and doubles plays. The same is true of his averages in past world series. Collins has batted .308 and fielded .975 in four series to Herzog's .214 and .958 in three post-season struggles.

If Herzog enters the fray benefited by the rest he insisted on taking, after the Giants had virtually clinched the pennant, he may prove to be capable of more efficient work than his records would indicate for he is one of the best "money players" in the game today. He is a dangerous batter at critical moments of the play; resourceful and daring in the field and a man who is not willing to concede defeat until the final out is made. Collins, however, on such records and form as are available must be given the edge at second over the Giant's guardian of the keystone base.

Injuries also complicate the situation at short and third. The White Sox regular third baseman, "Buck" Weaver, broke one of his fingers in a game late in the season and did not return to the lineup until a few days before the pennant race closed. In the meantime McMullin had held down this position so satisfactorily that there is some doubt as to whether Weaver will return to the bag. It would not be surprising if Manager Rowland sent him into the big series as shortstop in place of Risberg.

If this should prove to be the case McMullin will have Zimmerman as his rival at third and the advantage would be decidedly with the Giants for the former Chicago Club player has passed through the test of one world series in 1903, when he batted .235 and fielded .956 for the Chicago Nationals of that year. Zimmerman also figures better than McMullin on the season's averages of the two leagues for the Giants' third baseman has batted .236 and fielded .941 in the National circuit, while McMullin's averages in the American league are .246 and .928. In double plays and stolen bases Zimmerman also leads but if Weaver goes back to his old position there will be a far closer struggle as the latter is fully equal to holding his own with Zimmerman both at bat and in the field.

Risberg has played short for the Chicago team most of the year and it was his acquisition that finally completed the White Sox baseball machine and made a pennant possible. He is a rather erratic batter, however, and for that reason it is not unlikely that Weaver will be sent to short. In the opening game at least, and Risberg held on the bench for emergencies. On this basis Weaver would be opposed to Fletcher, the Giants' regular shortstop, and the White Sox appear to have a little the better in comparison. Weaver is a better hitter than Fletcher, fully as fast and accurate in fielding, and considerably faster on the bases. Should Risberg cover short then it will be Fletcher who will have the edge both in experience and effective playing. During the season just closed the Chicago club has used Jourdan and Byrne several times as utility infielders in addition to those already mentioned. Byrne was recently released, however, and Jourdan is not likely to get into the game unless Gandil is hurt. Hans Lobert and J. Smith have also figured similarly for the New York team but they will also be held in reserve and not used unless there should be a serious upset in the present infield combination.

The records of these players are included with the regulars in the following list of batting and fielding averages, stolen bases and double plays, for the purpose of comparison:

THE SOX ARE SURE TO WIN, SAYS GYPSY PRINCESS THREE STRONG ENEMIES TO WORK AGAINST M'GRAW

ROWLAND'S HAND

M'GRAW'S HAND

Princess Boria-Rousa and the hands of the rival world series managers, the line of which convince her Rowland will win the big event.

"What luck!" I see by the lines. Un'stand? A great crowd. Ev'body craze, seems. The line tell me v' plainly. Nothing can stand in way. Get much mon, but must give a lot way. Un'stand? Little light com- plect man try stand in way. He fight. But you have your way. He old, you young. You have your way. Un'stand? I see by the lines. Others help the little light man fight you. You have your way over them all. The line says so."

The photographic hand fell to the floor and in picking it up the questioner grabbed that of Muggsy McGraw. He couldn't tell one from the other.

But not so Princess Boria-Rousa, who reaches far into the future and breaks the morrow's seal of silence.

"You fight much. But the other man he—" and then the princess noted that the hands had been dotted on her. Muggsy's fist went into the discard once again, and the White Sox leader's paw was scanned.

"You lucky long time, many years. You very smart. I see by the lines. Un'stand? No one stand in front you. You not fight. You too smart. The line says so. You live long (Tough luck for next National league pennant winner, eh, bo?) an' you let none stand in front of you. (Rotten news for the rest of the teams in the American league race next year.)

So you see how it will turn out. The best Muggsy's crew can hope for in the world series race is second place.

The Sox win, boys! Bet on it, if you want to, or lay off, just as you please.

But Princess Boria-Rousa has spoken.

And the princess knows. She says so, herself. She didn't consult any dope book, batting averages or pitching statistics. In fact, the princess doesn't know any more about the great national pastime than a rabbit. And "world series" is worse than Greek to her, a whole lot worse, for she does know Greek, being a daughter of a royal Romyan gypsy house.

Sox or Giants, which will win? That question was put up to her royal gypsy highness, and she gazed playfully at the questioner as one might rubber at a raving maniac.

The questioner tried some new tactics. He produced photographs of the well known mits of John Muggsy McGraw, generalissimo of the Giants, and Clarence Pants Rowland, bench marshal of the White Sox.

Placing Muggsy's pictured palm before the princess, he "crossed it" with a silver coin, and the veil into the future was ripped aside.

"You're not very lucky," the princess said, evidently speaking to Muggsy, the picture of whose hand she was fondling and tracing lines forward and backward, this way and that.

"A lotta trouble comin'," she went on. "You will be disappoint. Un'stand? I see it in th' lines. Three strong enemy will work again' you."

The princess was halted to identify the enemy. But she didn't know if the three were Eddie Cicotte, Happy Felsch and Joe Jackson.

"Nev' hear of those men," she protested.

Then the picture of Rowland's hand was slipped to the dusky daughter of Romyan.

"Ah," she exclaimed, her black eyes shining brighter than Eddie Cicotte's shine ball ever did to Ty Cobb.

WHY NOT LIVE ON STREETS LIKE THESE?

Scenes Which Make Fort Wayne People Proud of Their Home City

Many Are This Week Selecting Home Sites in West Brook View, the Newest of the Wildwood Developments.

The heavy rain of yesterday prevented many from visiting West Brook View and becoming thoroughly acquainted with this beautiful new Wildwood subdivision which has attracted such wide attention since the announcement that the sale of lots is about to begin. However, a good many who have observed the newspaper pictures of the place have already taken the time to go and admire its beauties and the strictly modern improvements which have been put in for the everlasting benefit of those who are to convert the place into a new north side residence community. A good many of these are now asking that certain lots be reserved for them when the sale opens on Saturday, October 13, and the Wildwood Companies have given assurance that these reservations will be held for all who apply now. Especially is the company glad to make reservations for those who were disappointed in failing to secure one of the original Brook View properties. All salesmen of all agencies are instructed to extend the same accommodation.

West Brook View is just across Spy Run Brook from Brook View—in fact the two are practically one development with the same paving, sidewalks, ornamental boulevard lighting, sewers, water, electricity and gas, as well as other improvements which create an ideal place to live. Parts of West Brook View are nearer to the court house than the entrance to Swinney Park, Lakeside Park, Concordia College or Reservoir Park—in fact, it seems almost impossible that such a beautiful close-in tract could have been kept from settlement until now. But such is the case, and with street car connections and several direct approaches, West Brook View possesses many enticing features for those seeking an ideal home site.

Readers of The Sentinel are asked to remember that while the sale opens in earnest on Saturday, October 13, it is possible right now to reserve any lot in West Brook View which has not already been spoken for.

FRIARS HAVE FORMED ANOTHER GREAT TEAM

One Player Was An All-American Last Season
Under Assumed Name.

In the lineup of the Friars' football team this season will be a member of last season's All-American team. He will play here under an assumed name because of his connection with college sports.

The man of mystery will play his first game here Sunday when the Friars will open the season with Camp Grant, Battle Creek, Mich. Manager George Fisher announces the following probable lineup for Sunday:

Carlton and Bradley, L. E.; Parry and Kraeger, L. T.; Wanzler and Read, L. G.; Feeney and Armstrong, C.; Lockwood and Robbins, R. G.; Mellick and Stearns, R. T.; Huntington, R. E.; Dorais, Q. B.; Pliska and Kintz, L. H.; Johnson and Smith, R. H.; Chambers, Young and Jetmore, F. B.

PATRIOTIC MOVEMENTS

Will Receive Support of Hundred Per Cent Club.

The Hundred Per Cent club held the first meeting of the year at the Commercial club Wednesday evening. The club pledged to aid the second liberty loan and to serve the Fort Wayne contingent of the national army at Camp Taylor, Ky. In every way possible. The club gave their respects to W. J. Vesey, Jr., who leaves Friday for Camp Taylor, and he replied in a farewell speech. He asked the club they could do much to help the men in uniform. The principal speech of the evening was given by Attorney Frank Hogan, a member of the organization.

Ain't Nature Wonderful Gene Ahern

THE A.-L. WORLD SERIES UMP.

"Silk" O'Loughlin. He's the guy that started the "Strike tuh!" sonata. It went huge for a time, but now it listens to you like "Poor Butterfly." "Silk" is an ump from the snort go, to whoa.

To show you he's a real ump, he says in his four score and ten years as a big league ump he never made a mistake, and if he did he wouldn't admit it. So you see where Herzog, Zim and Fletcher are going to waste some bushels of lip on Silk when it strikes them he called something left-handed. Yes sir! Silk may hint at it, but he never makes a mistake. Something like the fella who "fell hard" but "he didn't hurt himself!"

Billy Evans. The handsomest of all ump. He's safe with the Francis X. Bushman title because there isn't a shade of competition from the other ump for the Apollo stuff. You know how you figure an ump to look? "Let me see your face and I'll tell you what you are."

"Woof! You're either a longshoreman or an ump." Well, Evans is quite some collar ad. He has a weakness for trick caps and sash ties. Evans is physical director in the winter and hands out strong stuff to factory workers. Teaches them how to bump the boss on the chin when he refuses them a raise and Sundays off. He's pretty kippy with his knuckles, too, and ball players who tend to be a little loose with wallop, steer clear of Billy when he's on the judgment.

AMBROSE TO PLAY WITH THE FRIARS THIS YEAR

Game With Rock Island Independents is Booked for Nov. 4.

The Friar management has succeeded in securing the services of Jack Ambrose, the clever quarterback with Elyria last year, for the entire season. Ambrose was a great favorite in Fort Wayne last year and closed the season with the local organization. With both Ambrose and Dorais at quarter this position on the Friar team will be well taken care of.

The Rock Island Independents will be the attraction here on November 4. The Rock Island team was the fastest independent organization in Illinois last season.

Manager Fisher is in receipt of a letter from the Friar scout in Chicago stating that "Patty" Driscoll will be unable to get away for next Sunday, but that he will be here for the game October 14 and will finish the season here.

Chicago Chief of Police

Answers Critics of Policewomen.

Chicago, Oct. 4.—The twenty-nine police women on the Chicago police force are not only efficient but are deserving of praise from the citizens of Chicago, instead of censure, according to a report made public today by Chief of Police H. F. Schuetzler. The report of the chief was called forth by a criticism made by the September grand jury with respect to women doing certain kinds of police work.

"If all the civic societies of Chicago should ask me to dispense with these police women I would not do it," said the chief in his report. "I have gone over their records in detail and I consider that they are doing first-class work. Not one of them has ever been before the trial board."

Waking Up!

This is the general waking up time of the world. All the nations are becoming acutely conscious of their weaknesses and deficiencies. There is nothing like a terrible war to jolt people out of their lethargy and make them see things as they are. And war has also another good effect. It makes people economize and forces them to seek out the best ways to save. The conscientious use of the Want Ads is helping many housewives in this community to effect savings in their household affairs that they could not accomplish in any other way. LOCAL MARKETS

TOMATOES SELL FOR $1 TO $1.35 BUSHEL

Green Kind Sold for Sixty Cents—The Local Markets.

Women who got panic stricken a few weeks since because there promised to be more ripe tomatoes on account of the frost, and paid two dollars a bushel for fruit to can, had the satisfaction of seeing better ones than they had bought on the market this morning from $1.00 to $1.35 per bushel. The frost didn't kill, as bushes of green tomatoes at 60 cents a bushel, bore witness.

There were many tomatoes, probably about the very last of the season. Peaches in plenty sold at $1.95 and $2.00.

The market was not particularly large this morning, but there were many patrons who went home with baskets filled with green stuffs, even cucumbers, pickle slices, at one stand anyway, finding ready buyers at 40 cents a hundred.

Cauliflower, squash, green beans, lima beans, lettuce, endive, sage, celery, yellow tomatoes, eggs from 42 to 48 cents; cheese of several kinds, grapes and melons, citron, splendid sweet apples, green corn, green onions and ripe ones, carrots and potatoes, the latter selling at an average of $1.50 per bushel, with many flowers of the fall varieties, gave the market its customary picturesque appearance.

Receipts were heavy at the city scales, a total of thirty-one loads being weighed, of which, however, only three were corn. Corn brought $1.75. Hay ranged from $17 to $18 and oats from 58 cents to 60 cents.

100 YOUNSTERS ARE VACCINATED

Every Precaution is Being Taken to Prevent Spread of Smallpox.

The "bare arm brigade," one hundred strong, marched through the health board office Thursday morning. Every small arm was attacked by a small quill point in the hand of Dr. Van Buskirk, county health officer.

Two small boys fainted when their arms were being vaccinated. There were many cries of "ouch" at the first prick of the small needles.

The throng of boys and girls are from the Hoagland, St. Augustine and St. Mary's schools, where several cases of smallpox have been reported. The entire St. Mary's school is closed. The grades of 5A and 5B are dismissed at the Hoagland school and the fifth grade at the St. Augustine school.

Health officers think that there will be no need of closing the grades of any other city schools. It is thought that the epidemic of smallpox, which has totaled twenty cases, will be checked at once.

FINAL DEBATE ON WAR RISK.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—With the final vote on the administration soldiers' and sailors' insurance bill set for late today, the senate this morning resumed debate on the measure.

THESE CABBAGES GREW IN COUNTRY CLUB GARDENS.

FERTILE GROUND ADJOINING COUNTRY CLUB IS NOW OFFERED TO TOWN FOLKS AS IDEAL PLACES FOR HOMES.

Ed Perrey, the photographer, made the above picture a few days ago on the former Coleman farm which adjoins the Fort Wayne Country Club on the west. The picture bears out the statement of F. W. Gray, city garden supervisor, that the place is ideal for raising vegetables. The City and Suburban Building Co. has purchased this entire tract which is bordered on the north by the Huntington Road and on the south by the Interurban line of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction Co., where a station has been located for the accommodation of the people who live in the new section which will be known as Country Club Gardens. The preparation of this new place, with gravel streets, and lots averaging 100 by 200 feet in size, is designed to meet the need of many who are employed in the city but who want to live in the suburbs where a plot of rich ground will furnish all that such a situation suggests. Salesmen representing the realty companies connected with the Fort Wayne Real Estate Board will participate in the sale of these lots, beginning Wednesday, October 10.

AUTOMOBILE FACTORY COMES TO FORT WAYNE

Supreme Motors Corporation Will Establish Plant Here at Once.

The manufacturers' committee of the Commercial club has accepted the proposition submitted by the Supreme Motors corporation of Cleveland for the establishment of a factory in this city. The committee's report has also received the unanimous approval of the board of directors of the club. A temporary factory building will be leased within a day or two and operations will start, it was stated, Thursday at the earliest possible moment.

The Supreme Motors corporation is a million dollar concern recently organized for the manufacture of automobiles, aeroplanes and tractor motors. A light pleasure car also will be put on the market. Ninety people will be employed at the start, and this number will be increased within a very short time.

A thorough investigation was made by the manufacturers' committee of the Commercial club before giving endorsement to the company. Clarence F. Jamison, of Lafayette, who recently resigned as assistant general manager of the Elgin Motor corporation at Chicago, is president and general manager. Benjamin F. Cline, formerly with the Elgin concern, is second vice-president and director of manufacturing. Courtney M. Mitchell, of Cleveland, is chief engineer; C. E. Manning will have charge of experimental engineering, and U. P. DeHart, also of Cleveland, is purchasing agent. Four members of the Fort Wayne Commercial club will be directors. One of these will be made first vice-president.

The gross receipts were $1,015,674.20 and expense of the registration showed $48,376.29, leaving the net receipts at the comfortable sum of $967,297.91. The distribution of one-third of the net receipts according to the number of miles of gravel and macadamized roads in each county awards Allen county with 405 miles at $10,787 per mile, $4,371.89 and one-third of the net received from the county is placed at $13,893.92, making the total due Allen county $21,480.71.

NEW IN WAR TAXES

Business and Professional and Salaried Men With Over $6,000.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 4.—Business and professional men and salaried men as well as those who have incomes of more than $6,000 a year, face a war profits tax of 8 per cent in addition to the income tax under the provisions of a section which has been discovered in the war tax bill. The section was not introduced on the floor, nor discussed in either house of congress but was inserted by the conferees while they were working in secret session to bring out the perfected bill.

The war profits tax section of the bill lays a tax of eight per cent on the net income of a "business or trade" when it exceeds $3,000 a year in the case of a corporation and $6,000 in the case of a partnership or an individual. A subsequent section just discovered declares that a trade or business includes "professions and occupations."

In the opinion of members of the ways and means committee that language hits every doctor or lawyer or other professional man and every salaried employee who has an income large enough to come under its provisions.

Internal revenue experts, while they have not ruled formally on the question are inclined to believe that the language permits of no other interpretation. If it stands, professional, business and salaried men will pay two taxes on their incomes.

"TICKER" ADVANCES.

As a result of the war tax now effective the prices of all kinds of whisky were advanced by local saloonkeepers Thursday. The sur tax amounts to $2.10 a gallon on whiskies and $2.50 a barrel on beer.

SUFFRAGETTES IN RACE RIOT IN WORK HOUSE

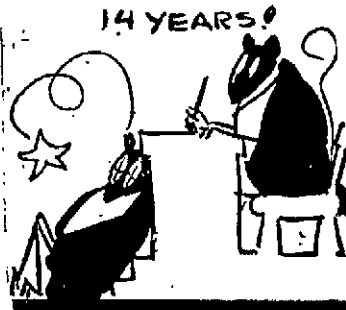

Washington, Oct. 4.—Seventeen silent sentinels of woman's party, doing time in the Occoquan workhouse for picketing the white house, are bruised and scratched today as the result of a free-for-all scramble late yesterday when the authorities removed one of their number to the hospital without giving notice of her destination and the other pickets formed a flying wedge to rescue their comrade.

During the melee, it is said some sixty negro women, also prisoners at the workhouse, came to the rescue of the keepers and details of the battle as it was waged vary. The mixup has resulted in new charges being laid by the pickets against the conduct of the workhouse. One account of the melee is that it verged on being a race riot.

Washington, Oct. 4.—Continuation of generally good business conditions throughout the country was announced today by the federal reserve board in its monthly review. The report by districts in which Indiana is included shows: Chicago—Some hesitation in business which may be affected by legislative measures, but on the whole the situation is satisfactory. GARFIELD TO SETTLE COAL DIFFERENCES

Washington, Oct. 4.—Reference of differences between coal operators and miners of the central competitive field to Dr. H. A. Garfield, the fuel administrator for settlement, appears probable today, when the two sides still could not agree on a proposed readjustment of the miners' wage scale. The chief difficulty now is the question not how long the new contract shall run. Operators' representatives want it to end with the termination of the war, but the miners want it made for a term of two years, dating from next April. Some operators in Illinois and Ohio also, it was said today,

IN THE CHURCHES OCTOBER MONTH OF ROSARY SERVICES

Celebrated in Honor of the Catholic Victory Over
Turks.

This month will be devoted to the celebration of the rosary by all the Catholic churches. In some of the parishes the service will follow the early mass and in others it will come in the evening. In the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception rosary devotions will be held on Wednesday and Friday evenings at 7:45 o'clock. The order followed is the recitation of the rosary and libany of the Blessed Virgin, followed by special prayers for peace and then benediction of the most blessed sacrament.

Next Sunday the feast of Our Lady of the Rosary will be observed. This feast was started by Pope Pius V in honor of the victory of the Catholic troops over the Turks at the battle of Lepanto, October 7, 1571. These services will be held at St. Paul's on Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

To Conduct Devotions.
The Rev. Eugene Gehl, of St. Francis, Wis., a prominent missionary, who has filled a number of engagements in this district, will soon return to this city to conduct a number of devotional services. Next Sunday he will officiate at the beginning of the forty hour devotions at the St. Peter's church, Huntington. The missionary has been engaged to fill a number of other engagements while here. He will have charge of the forty hours at St. Rose church, Monroeville, beginning Sunday, October 14. October 21, 22 and 23 he has been engaged by Rev. Max Benzinger for the forty hours at St. Joseph's church, Hesse Cassel, Ind. October 23, 24 and 25 Father Gehl will conduct the forty hours at Fort Jennings, Ohio. November 1 and 4 he will have charge of the triduum at Sacred Heart church, Cicero, Ind. Rev. Charles H. Thiele, rector of St. Peter's church, Fort Wayne, has arranged for the missionary to conduct forty hours in the local parish November 11, 12 and 13. On November 18, 19 and 20 he will have charge of the forty hours at St. Andrew's church, of which Rev. George Horstman is pastor.

Devotion at St. Patrick's.
The forty hour devotional services began Friday morning at the St. Patrick's parish with the celebration of high mass. Rev. Joseph F. Delaney, the rector, will officiate at the services, assisted by Rev. Nicholas Keller and Rev. John G. Bennett. The devotions will be conducted by Rev. Wendell P. Corcoran, C. S. C., and Rev. Richard Collentine, C. S. C., of the Holy Cross mission band of Notre Dame, Ind. Friday afternoon the holy hour will be observed and also on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The evening services at 7:45 will be in charge of the visiting missionaries. The solemn closing will occur on Sunday evening with the local and many of the neighboring priests assisting. Father Corcoran is well known in this city, but this is Father Collentine's first visit.

Special Services.
The Salvation Army will conduct a number of special services in Fort Wayne Saturday and Sunday. They will hold short meetings each evening on the court house square. Col. A. E. Kimball will speak on both occasions. Special music is to be provided at all services, led by Adjutant Keeler. Colonel Kimball will speak Sunday evening at the Plymouth Congregational church and Adjutant Hopkins will speak at the West Jefferson street Christian church. Brigadier Simonson will conduct services at the cathedral at 11 and 3 o'clock Sunday. A special collection will be taken at all these services to aid the work.

Church Notes.
A get-together social will be held at the Crescent avenue Evangelical church Friday evening for the members and friends of the church. An interesting program will be held. The W. C. T. U. ladies, who have been assisting the Red Cross in making comfort bags for ambulance services, have a few left which they would like to sell. Any one wishing bags should call Mrs. N. W. Bloom, phone 441, at once.

OFFICERS OF THE PENNSYLVANIA VETERAN EMPLOYEES' ASSOCIATION

JOHN B. BROWN.
TIMOTHY J. COSTELLO.
PETER CARTER.
HENRY U. DIEM.
J. H. HOBROCK.
HIRAM A. PHILLEY.

The annual gathering of the Veteran Employees of the Western Division of the Pennsylvania is in progress Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the high school. There are about 300 in attendance and John B. Brown, president, presided at the opening of the sessions until his successor was elected and installed. The business session was short, consisting chiefly of the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the election of officers for the ensuing term. This was in progress as the Sentinel went to press—at 3:30 o'clock—and at that hour the following officers had been elected: Past president, John B. Brown, shop clerk. President, Timothy J. Costello, train dispatcher. First vice president, Peter Carter, passenger engineer. Second vice president, Henry U. Diem, general car shop foreman. Secretary, J. H. Hobrock, chief shop clerk.

Hiram A. Philley, chief clerk for Road Foreman O. E. Maxwell, will probably be elected treasurer, and James Trythall, hammersmith in the local blacksmith shop, will probably be elected chaplain, though at the hour this is written the vote on these officers had not been made.

The attendance from out of town is better than was expected. Some of the veterans came in on the early morning trains. Included in this number were Supt. W. M. Wardrop, of the Erie and Ashland division, headquarters at New Castle, and Supt. Jesse F. Patterson, of the Michigan division, with headquarters at Logansport, each of whom will be among the speakers at the banquet. Special cars were attached to train No. 40 to handle the vets from the west and those from the east came in on train 1007. The visitors were met at the passenger station by the reception committee and taken to the hall, where they were registered and where an informal reception and a renewal of acquaintanceship took place.

At the close of the business session, at 4 o'clock, city time, the veterans will go to the Jefferson theater as the guests of Manager Walter C. Quimby. Following the entertainment at the Jefferson, the veterans from out of town will be given a ride over the city streets in automobiles, bringing up at the high school at 6 o'clock for the banquet, the chief feature of the day. General Manager D. F. Crawford, of Pittsburg, who is a member of the association, is on the "bill" as chief speaker at the banquet, but he had not arrived at noon.

The combined service of these officers is 236 years. Mr. Brown is credited with thirty years, Mr. Costello with thirty-six years, Mr. Carter with forty-seven years, Mr. Diem with twenty-five years, Mr. Hobrock with thirty-six years and Mr. Trythall with thirty-seven years.
